ARKANSAS.

Lively Proceedings in the Legislature—A Contested Election—Flowers of Speech Freely Strewn.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, January 27.—The Avalanche's Little Rock special says a tumultuous scene occurred in the Arkansas Senate yesterday immediately after the reading of the journal. Jas. Brooks, who had come in, stood near the Speaker's stand, and presented certificates of election from the clerks of Pulaski and White counties, and demanded to be sworn in, according to the legal returns. Dr. Riley was legally elected, but Clayton refused to allow the Secretary of State to report the election of either. Immediately after the demand of Brooks, several Senators, friends of Governor Clayton, sprang to their feet, exclaiming, "I object, I object." Lieut. Gov. Johnson, a fast friend of Brooks, said he considered it his duty to swear Mr. Brooks in as Senator. Mr. Mallory appealed to the Senate to protect itself, and called on the Sergeant-at-Arms to put Mr. Brooks out. The Lieutenant Governor paying no attention to the objections, proceeded with the oath, on the conclusion of which Mr. Brooks moved a reference of his credentials to the common election. Mr. Mallory objected, saying he had no right here. Lieutenant Governor "It was expected the gentleman would object." Senator Baldwin—"I object too, sir." Lieutenant Governor—"It was expected you too would object." [Great sensation; cries of order.] The chair ruled that Mr. Brooks was entitled to the floor.

He proceeded in a speech of an hour and a half, to defend the action of himself and the Governor, denouncing Mallory as a ruffian and bully, who lorded it over the Senate at his master, Clayton's bidding.

The proceedings created an intense sensation, the Clayton men denouncing them as revolutionary, while the Brooks men retorted that others set the precedent by the passage of a bill to oust the Lieut. Governor.

Mr. Flattery introduced a bill declaring the Lieutenant-Governor's action as revolutionary, without law, contrary to parliamentary usage, consequently null and void, pending the discussion of which the Senate adjourned. The passage by the House, of the Senate Bill, ousting officers who failed to qualify within fifteen days after the adoption of the Constitution, is very doubtful.

Fearful Tragedy—Death of six Persons—Another Death from Kerosene—The Mills—The Knapp Imbroglio—Two new Suits Settled by a Train.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, January 27.—A rumor comes from Janesville, Wis., that a fearful tragedy occurred at Rock Grove, Winnebago county, on Wednesday, which resulted in the instant death of three men, a woman and two children. The tragedy having some connection with an attempted robbery. We have no particulars.

George Lace, living in the family of Augustus Woodard, Bloomington, Ill., was burned to death last night by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The furniture was also destroyed. Mr. Woodard was also seriously burned.

Mrs. Maria E. Mills, who figured conspicuously in the recent imbroglio at the boarding house on Wabash avenue, has commenced a suit of assumpsit against the Rev. Wm. H. Knapp, the other party in the affray, laying her damages at $10,000. She has commenced also, in behalf of her son Charles, a like suit laying his damages at $5,000. The papers filed in the cases do not develop the exact purpose of the actions.

Auguste Wolf, aged 15 years, was killed this morning by being run over by a train of cars at the corner of Junction street and Western avenue.

A bill appropriating $150,000 reported by the Legislative Committee for the support of the State Constabulary for the present year has been reduced to $50,000 by the House and in this state goes to the Senate.

SAN FRACISCO.

Another Expose of the Magdalena Colonization Scheme—Deery the Winner in the Great Billiard Game—Political Matters, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, January 27.—Halley, who was engaged by the Lower California Company to write up the Magdalena Bay Colonization scheme, has published a lengthy card drawing out of the transaction and denouncing the scheme as an unmitigated fraud and a criminal imposition on emigrants.

The billiard game progressed lively last night. Deery grew cool and Dion excited, much to the surprise of everybody. Deery won the game, scoring 500. The actual count on the hundred and thirty-fourth inning, against Dion's was four hundred and seventy-nine, and tremendous excitement followed the result. Deery's longest run was 57, and Dion's 62.

The movement of prominent Republicans is being made to bring out A. Seligman, a banker, for Governor.

Alabama and Chattanooga R. R.—The Delayed Payment of Interest—The Road to be Completed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., January 26.—The Chattanooga Daily Times contains a report of an interview with J. C. Stanton, General Superintendent of the Alabama and Chattanooga R. R. Co. He says the reason the January interest was not paid by his road on the bonds endorsed by the State of Alabama is that if the present administration of Alabama would recognize the validity of the bonds issued by the last Legislature in aid of railroads, he was offered all the money he needed, if he could obtain from Governor Lindsay a promise to recommend the present Legislature to acknowledge the bonds or agree to extend the time, but Gov. Lindsay positively refused to do either.

Mr. Stanton says he has provided money to pay all the floating debt and complete the road, which now lacks only forty miles in forty days from date. He will then pay the interest on the bonds and will ask no more endorsement from the State.

OHIO.

Sudden Death of a Member of the Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., January 27.—Col. G. J. Young, member of the House of Representatives from Columbiana County, and editor of the Buckeye State, died suddenly this afternoon, as he entered the State House, after dinner. He was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs. He was taken immediately to the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, where he died in a few minutes. Col. Young was the Military Secretary of the late Gov. Tod.

The event has cast great gloom over the General Assembly, which was in session but a short time after its occurrence. The body was placed in the Governor's office until removed to Columbiana County.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, January 27, 1871.

THE LATE SNOW STORM.

The snow storm ceased this morning. Near two feet of snow has fallen, and travel is greatly impeded in all directions, and in some cases entirely suspended. All the railroad trains, since the beginning of the storm, have been greatly delayed, the driving snow in some cases so choking up the fires and smoke stacks of the locomotive as to seriously embarrass their progress. The Erie seems to have been the most irregular; the mail train due at 7:30 A. M., yesterday was ten hours behind time. The Boston trains were from two to eight hours delayed; the Hudson River and Central trains have been from four to five hours behind time, and the same has been the case with Harlem, Long Island, New Jersey and Southern trains.

Up to a late hour no advices had been received from other more distant points. Prominent railroad men believe that all routes between this city and the Mississippi will be blockaded and travel temporarily suspended. The storm seems to have extended over the greater portion of the county east of the rocky Mountains, though it does not appear to have extended very far to the south.

GASOMETER EXPLOSION—LOSS OF LIFE.

The Brooklyn gasometer blew up to-day with a loud report, and the force of the explosion was so great, that one of the large tanks and three immense iron columns surrounding it were blown over against a row of tenement houses on Gold street, and caused the utmost consternation among the occupants. The people were so panic stricken that they fled from the houses with all possible speed. The flames shot up from every direction, and for some minutes threatened the destruction of the dwellings on every side, but it was of short duration. Two employes of the works are missing, and on looking among the debris, the body of Fred Anderson, fireman, was discovered beneath the pieces of one of the heavy iron colums of the yard-works, mangled in a most shocking manner. The police and watchman are still engaged in searching for the bodies of John Harley, watchman, and a laborer named Reed, both of whom it is believed were killed. The loss is $150,000. It is probable the city will be without gas to-night. This is the third time within a recent period, that explosions have occurred on the premises. A rigid investigation will soon be made.

THE HAGGERTY HOMICIDE.

The evidence in the coroner's examination on the Haggerty homicide disclosed no facts of importance not previously published, and generally confirmed Varley's story that the fatal shot was fired in self defence. The examination adjourned till Wednesday, to allow the attendance of witnesses from Philadelphia, the coroner stating that he would probably accept bail in the meantime for Varley.

The net proceeds of the recent fair of this city in aid of French sufferers by the war, were $77,286, of which $60,000 has already been forwarded, and $10,000 will soon be sent for ambulance service in the army of the Loire.

Chief Engineer Adams of the Brooklyn Water Works, says the ponds are getting low and there will in all probability be a scarcity of water in Brooklyn. The small reserve of storage in the ponds has been exhausted, and the engines are now stopped for lack of water in the pump well. He requests the citizens not to wash in the precious element for fear that if a conflagration should break out, he would be without means of averting it.

SOCIETY MATTERS.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias convened at Tammany Hall yesterday, in a session which promises to be the most important to the order ever held in this State. The convention was presided over by Grand Chancellor John W. Root, of Brooklyn.

The annual Ladies' Reception at the Union League Club last night, was a most elegant affair. The whole building was given up to the entertainment. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large number of persons were present.

THE UNITED STATES ELECTION.

Some Republicans of this city are of the opinion that the United States election law is deficient in many important particulars, and Commissioner Davenport, acting on their belief, proceeded to Washington to urge the passage of a more stringent bill—one which will prohibit repeating at elections for State as well as Federal officers. It is said a bill to repeal the Registry law is to be introduced in the State Legislature. If so, the features of the State Registry law are to be incorporated into the proposed new law of Congress.

SHARP CORRESPONDENCE.

A sharp correspondence between David Dudley Fields and Mr. Bowles, of the Springfield Republican, concerning a letter published in that journal, has been put in pamphlet form, and will soon see light.

INJURED.

James Watson, County Auditor, was seriously injured on Tuesday last by his sleigh coming in collision with another person's. He is thought to be in a very critical condition.

ESCAPE OF A NOTORIOUS BURGLAR.

John Young, the notorious burglar, supposed to have been mortally wounded on New Year's night by a policeman, while attempting, with five companions, to rob the safe in a Brooklyn store, cut his way out of his cell in the Raymond street jail, in that city, last night, and escaped. No trace of him has yet been discovered.

SUIT AGAINST AN INSURANCE COMPANY.

Thomas Jones brought suit against the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company to recover a policy of $2,000, obtained by Isaac Newning in favor of Jones. The defense contended that the deceased was a confirmed drunkard, and died from the direct effect of liquor, and therefore held that the policy had been vitiated. The jury rendered a verdict of $1,472, including interest, in favor of the plaintiff.

OLE BULL TO RESIDE IN AMERICA.

THE CAPITAL.

Troubles in the Census Bureau—Incompetent Marshals throughout the South—The Revenue Reformers not Confident of Success—New Nominations.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, January 27, 1871.

BUSINESS IN THE HOUSE.

The House Judiciary Committee is waiting for the complete official population and summaries of the States and Territories before reporting the apportionment bill, the main features of which have been agreed upon—being the one prepared by Judge Mercer. The Census Bureau has been greatly delayed by its failure to receive returns from South Carolina and Texas, owing to the disturbed political condition of those States, and defects in the law. The Bureau having no power over Assistant Marshals, either to appoint them or to punish them for incompetent or fraudulent returns, has had much to do with this clog. There have been complaints made against the Bureau for alleged incompleteness of the returns in various localities. These complaints all appear to be founded on the partial statements furnished by Marshals to the newspapers, and accepted by the public as official. These returns when examined by the census officials have often been found to be very far from accurate, so that in some cases it has been necessary to make new enumerations the second time, causing much delay and trouble. The delays in the South are largely due to the appointment by the Marshals of improper persons as Assistant Marshals and enumerators. In many cases these officers were ignorant negroes who did not wish to go into their districts during the day. Some of them have been detected pawning their blanks and certificates for liquor. Superintendent General Walker did not discover that any subdivisions were missing until an attempt was made in the office here to make up the tables, and then it required much time to ascertain why the reports had not been made, and to order the appointment of new officers and a new court.

TARIFF REFORM.

James Brooks will not attempt to get the Tariff Reform question before the House till after the 4th of March, at which time he will propose a general reduction of the duties.

The revenue reformers are not so confident of success now as they were in the fall, but seem determined to make a display of their strength and weakness immediately on the assembling of the Forty-second Congress.

PRUSSIA'S INTENTIONS.

Baron Gerolt, Prussian Minister, denies officially that there is any truth in the report so extensively circulated during the San Domingo debate in the Senate that Prussia is anxious to secure a foothold in the West Indies by purchasing an island there. Prussia is not desirous to obtain any territory which would be so open to attack in case she should become involved in another foreign war.

NO NEWS OF THE SURRENDER OF PARIS RECEIVED.

All the members of the Cabinet, excepting Mr. Cresswell, were present at the regular session to-day. Secretary Fish explained at the meeting that he had received no official dispatches from Minister Washburne which would probably be at hand had the surrender of Paris been communicated.

THE REMOVAL OF THE CAPITAL.

The New York Tribune to-morrow, (Saturday) will publish a long and able letter to President Grant from L. M. Reaves Esq., of St. Louis, wherein he replies to the President's speech on the removal of the capital, and gives the history of the whole question with an elaborate statement of the progress of the nation and the growing greatness of the West, and asserts that the capital must be removed to the valley of the Mississippi.

The following named released Fenians have arrived in the Russia: David Mulcahay, Thos. T. Burke, D. Edward Pomer, W. F. Roantree, Edward St. Clair, George Brown, Patrick Walsh, Peter Mongahan and Patrick Lennon. A large crowd was collected at the Cunard Dock to welcome them, and they were greeted with enthusiastic cheers. Congressman Wm. R. Roberts, greeted them in behalf of Tammany and the Reception Committee and escorted them to the Sweeny Hotel.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Mr. Schurz holds the floor at one o'clock to-day on the Civil Service Reform, and notice has been given that he will offer the bill that he has drawn as a substitute for Mr. Trumbull's bill now before the Senate. This will open up a discussion on the relative merits of several propositions on the subject, and it may remain before the Senate some time longer.

AMENDMENTS AGREED TO.

The House Judiciary Committee this morning agreed to recommend several amendments to the Bankruptcy Act, one of which exempts a widow's dower from its operations, and another provides for the appointment of Registrars in Bankruptcy by the United States Circuit Judges, instead of by the Justices of the United States Supreme Court holding circuit courts.

R. R. BUTLER DECLARED NOT GUILTY OF PERJURY.

The case of Representative Butler of Tenn., was called to-day in the Criminal Court on an indictment of forgery. He waived an arraignment and pleaded not guilty. After the examination a number of witnesses the Court said there was not the slightest foundation for the prosecution, and the Jury gave a verdict of not guilty.

NEW NOMINATIONS.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate to-day: Bowen Mattock, Appraiser of Merchandise; Allensin Hengman, Collector of Customs of the district of Oregon.

COMMITTED TO PRISON.

A. C. Radcliffe, alias A. C. Chamberlain was sent to prison by Commissioner Osborne, in default of $10,000 bail, on a charge of smuggling diamonds.

CONFIRMATION.

The Senate to-day confirmed a number of Postmasters and other appointees.

ST. LOUIS.

Recommendations from Gov. Brown.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, January 27.—Gov Brown sent a special message to the Legislature yesterday, in which he very ably discussed the divorce laws. He recommends the establishment of a State House of Refuge for juvenile criminals, and a thorough geological survey of the State and a complete revision of the Revenue and Insurance laws of the Government. He seems to think adultery the only sufficient cause for divorce, and suggests that this act be made penal, and when the evidence of adultery is sufficient to justify a legal separation, the guilty party should be punished by the same judgment that grants the divorce.

Arrived—Hotel Burned.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, January 27.—The steamship Batavia, from Liverpool, has arrived.

The Mansion House at Hull was totally destroyed by fire last night, together with the furniture, on which there was $4,000 insurance.

Can This Thing Be?

Once, if we mistake not, a man claiming to have been a member of Maximilian's military family and with other, more high sounding than plausible, tales, came to this city, was chaperoned by several, alas! too credulous educators, dominies and philanthropists, and then—but can this extract from the N. Y. World refer to the same protege of the gentleman referred to?

Another philological rascal—the fourth—has appeared in the person of Dr. De Silva, who taught the modern languages in several Western cities, notably at Alton, in Illinois, from which he eloped with a girl, whom he took to Chicago and there abandoned. At St. Joseph, Mo., he lectured a few nights ago, was engaged to be married the next day, was drunk and aroused from his alcoholic oblivion by his fiancee, who led him to the altar. On the next day the policemen took him to the calaboose dead drunk, and at night he was arrested on a United States warrant as a deserter from the Fourteenth Infantry. His career has been a bad one, and now it is likely to rest for a while at the Dry Tortugas. The man who acquires languages that do not properly belong to him, may not hesitate to take other things, the graduation from bad to worse is so natural and easy. What in the world has got into our philologists.

A Western Notion—Sheet and Pillow Case Parties.

A Minnesota paper says: "Duluth introduced sheet and pillow-case parties last week at the residence of George C. Stone, Esq. The uniform for ladies consisted of a pair of white stockings drawn over their shoes, a nightgown over their dresses, a white sheet thrown over their shoulders shawl fashion, white gloves on their hands, a white handkerchief, tied tooth-ache fashion around their heads, a pink cambric mask over the face, and a pillow-case tied over their heads in the same manner in which house-wives tie handkerchiefs over their top-pieces while sweeping a dusty room. The costume of gentlemen was similar to the above with the exception of white shirts instead of night-gowns, and the addition, in some instances, of pantalets drawn over the pantaloons."

THE WAR.

LONDON, January 26.—Advices from Paris to the 23d have been received. The evening of yesterday—one hundred and twenty-eight days since the commencement of the siege—witnessed, for the first time since the investment, a scene which all have been dreading more or less every day during the dreary four months. There has been not from shells of the besiegers, but by the acts of those reckless adventurers who all along have sought in the siege and the miseries and misfortunes of the country, for the advance of their own interests. On Saturday night a crowd of citizens from Belleville and other quarters, who had been threatening mischief since the failure of the sortie of the 19th, gathered around the prison Mazas, where Flourens, Villiers and other political prisoners were incarcerated, and after various riotous demonstrations, gathered courage in the absence of opposition, and made a regular attack upon the prison and beat down the gates with bludgeons, stones and iron bars. The jailer and turnkey fled for their lives leaving the jail free to the rioters, who opened the cells, releasing the inmates, until they found Flouren, Villiers and their companions, who were borne forth in triumph, amidst cries of "A bas Favre," "A bas Trochu."

After parading the streets, the ruffianly crowd stopped, and Flourens made a speech in the Twentieth Arrondissement, comprising the turbulent quarters Belleville, St. Fargeau, Pere La Chaise and Charonne, intending to establish there the headquarters of a revolutionary movement which, it was hoped, would extend over every portion of the whole city. However, as the parade failed to draw any large number of followers into active co-operation, and finding those willing to plunge into revolution were badly armed and almost destitute of ammunition, the rioters abandoned their plan.

Before dispersing, Flourens called upon the President to make oath to meet on Sunday at noon in front of the Hotel de Ville, and there demand possession of the Government in the name of the people. The rioters took oath with great vehemence and great excitement, and then broke up in groups and returned to their miserable homes or wandered. At noon yesterday in accordance their pledge, about 200 of the most repulsive and villainous looking ruffians in the city including large numbers of soldiers and the 101st war battalion, National Guard, marched in a body to the front of the Hotel de Ville, uttering revolutionary cries and calling upon citizens to arm.

The Tribune special says in the attack on the Hotel de Ville by the National Guards the Mobiles defended it successfully, and five of the rioters were killed and eighteen wounded.

[World Special.]

LONDON, January 26.—The negotiations at Versailles still continue with doubtful results.

FAVRE REPORTED AT VERSAILLES.

BERLIN, January 25.—The report of the arrival of Favre at Versailles, and that he was received, created a great excitement, although at present it is not officially confirmed.

THE FEELING IN BERLIN.

As soon as the news of the supposed intended capitulation was received abroad, the streets were speedily filled with joyful crowds, and a great number of people repaired at once to the Palace, in hopes to see the Queen and hear from her lips the glad intelligence promising the speedy return of peace. They were disappointed in their expectation, as no telegram had reached her Majesty. All public offices are closed and business is generally suspended, employees being anxious to gather news.

THE GENERAL BELIEF

in well informed circles is that the rumor of negotiations looking towards capitulation are true, from the fact that Jules Favre's presence at Versailles is undoubted. But some believe he may have gone there in the hope of obtaining a military pass to the London Conference.

ONLY FIVE DAYS' RATIONS IN PARIS.

The fact is officially known here that only five days' full rations are left in Paris from to-day.

At the War Office great preparations are making for the conveyance and reception of a large number of prisoners to the different locations designated.

FRENCH PICKETS ON THE SWISS BORDERS.

LONDON, January 25—7:30 P. M.—A dispatch from Berne says that since the 23rd inst. the French pickets have been posted along the frontier, preventing egress from France into Switzerland, and imprisoning strangers.

NEAR VILLAUS.

There are many Franc-Tireurs near the Swiss boundary, and their pickets are in the vicinity of the town of Villaus. The German patrols extend to Abbevilliers.

REPULSED.

The Germans have stormed Gray-Roche, and have repulsed a French attack upon Villaus.

A battle had been fought near Montevideo, in which the rebels were defeated. The revolution of Entre-Rics is extending to the surrounding provinces.

REPUTED GERMAN TERMS.

LONDON, January 25—9:30 A. M.—The following is from an unofficial source, but is believed to be entirely trustworthy: The Germans will insist upon the unconditional surrender of Paris, with all the forts and defences.

UNFOUNDED.

The report in the London Times that there is a collusion between Bismarck and Napoleon and Eugenie is unfounded.

GARIBALDI AND HIS ARMY SURROUNDED.

LONDON, January 26.—The Telegraph has a dispatch announcing that Garibaldi and his forces are surrounded by the Prussians near Dijon.

THE RETURN OF FAVRE.

CONDITION OF FRENCH PRISONERS.

SAARBRUCK, January 25.—Several trains of French prisoners from St. Quentin were halted at the station to-day and yesterday, on their way to the interior. Some were wounded, all haggard in the extreme and many suffering from hunger. Youths under twenty and men over forty were in the convoy, and there were some in a shocking condition. An excited feeling of sympathy prevailed in the hearts of the German people on the platform when the envoy arrived. A batch of wounded Prussians and Bavarians has also arrived here. Long trains of provisions are passing this way en route to Versailles. It is supposed they are intended for the relief of Paris after the capitulation. A heavy snow storm prevails here.

THE SPRAGUE INVESTIGATION.

On motion of Mr. THURMAN, Chairman of the Select Committee to consider Mr. Sprague's resolution for investigation into the allegation of that Senator's complicity with blockade runners in the rebellion, said committee was authorized to send for papers and persons, and to take testimony.

GEN. SHERMAN AND THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE.

Mr. HAMLIN introduced a joint resolution appointing Gen. Sherman Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, vice Delafield, resigned. Passed.

LAND SALES CONFIRMED.

Mr. WILLIAMS, of the Committee on Public Lands, reported without amendment a joint resolution to confirm the sales of the Shawnee Indian lands in Kansas, made with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior; also, without amendments, a bill confirming the title of the State of Iowa to land, granted by act of July 12, 1862.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to confirm the title of certain land in the Fort Kearney reservation, Iowa.

Mr. SCHURZ then proceeded to review the necessities of the civil service, and the remedies for existing abuses. He quoted from the investigations of the Retrenchment Committee to the New York Custom House affairs to show the looseness in the system of political appointments there. After instancing several cases to illustrate his remarks, he offered as a substitute the bill introduced as a substitute by him last winter. After some remarks in opposition by other Senators, the bill was laid on the table, and after some unimportant notices of motion, the Senate adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

DUTY ON IMPORTED STOCK.

Mr. CONGER introduced a bill to provide for the admission free of duty of animals especially imported from the Dominion of Canada for feeding purposes. Referred.

RELIEF OF BALTIMORE COLLECTOR.

Mr. MAYNARD, of the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a joint resolution to relieve J. L. Thomas, Jr., Collector of Customs at Baltimore, and the U. S. designated depository there, from the responsibility of a sum of over $27,000 stolen by two Deputy Collectors. After a brief discussion the joint resolution was recommitted.

The House then proceeded to call for Committee reports of a private character.

Mr. SHELDON of Louisana, on the Committee of Commerce reported a bill to incorporate the Southern Express company. Bill laid on the table.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House at 2 o'clock went into committee of the whole, Wheeler in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill. After agreeing to some amendments the Committee rose and the bill passed.

SAINT CROIX R. R. BILLS.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the Senate Joint resolution, extending the line to construct the railroad from St. Croix river or lake, to the west end of Lake Superior, and to Bayfield.

Mr. HOLMES argued against the passage of the joint resolution.

Mr. KNOTT made an amusing speech against the bill, ridiculing the pretensions as to the importance of a line of railroad through the pine region, extending from St. Croix River to Lake Superior. All the members gathered around him, laughing heartily at his witty sallies, the effect of which was heightened by his comic style of delivery. Without disposing of the bill,

INTERNAL REVENUE BILL REFERRED BACK.

Mr. HOOPER, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, rising to a question of order and privilege, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Senate bill to repeal so much of the act approved July 14th, 1870, entitled an act to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes, as continues the income tax after the 31st day of December, 1869, be returned to that body with a respectful suggestion on the part of the House that section 7th, article 1st of the Constitution, vested in the House of Representatives, sole power to originate such measures.

The article of the constitution was read, which required that all bills raising Revenues originate in the House.

Mr. RANDALL, suggested the provision did not meet this case, as the Senate bill was not a bill to raise revenue, but to repeal the law to raise Revenue. The House refused to order the yeas and nays on the resolution and it was adopted without division. The House then at 4:20 took a recess till 7:30 o'clock this Evening Session, and session to-morrow will be for debate only.

Evening Session—There was a very thin attendance of House members at the evening session.

Mr. KELLEY, of Pennsylvania, addressed the House on the subject of the San Domingo acquisition.

After an unimportant debate by several of the members, the House at 9:15 adjourned.

OMAHA.

A Government Purchase of One Thousand Head of Cattle for Suffering Indians—Car of Japanese on Their Way East.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OMAHA, January 27.—One thousand head of cattle are being purchased here by the Government to be distributed among the suffering Indians near Forts Fetterman and Laramie.

A car load of Japanese passed here to-day en route east.

The weather is pleasant, but very little snow has fallen here or east of here this winter.

A TERRIBLE ADVENTURE.

A Den of Robbers with a Bleeding Corpse Under the Bed.

(From the Knoxville Chronicle, Jan. 14.)

Mr. George Susong, of Jefferson county, some time ago drove a large number of hogs over into North Carolina. About two weeks since, on his return home, night overtook him in the mountains, near the State line, and he was forced to seek shelter in a house where entertainment was promised. Mr. Susong's suspicions were aroused by seeing several rough-looking characters about the place—more than he thought lived there, or were required to carry on the business of the hotel—yet, as he could not frame any reasonable excuse for leaving, and not wishing the landlord to know that he suspected anything, took matters coolly, and was shown to his room, which his entertainers locked on the outside. Confirmed in his opinion, and being thus cut off, Mr. Susong looked about the room for some means of escape. Most probably he was armed, though we do not know positively, but one against half a dozen was too great odds to contend with if strategy could be made available. The window not being deemed safe, trap-doors flashed across his mind, but a survey across the floor convinced him that nothing of the kind had formed a part of the architect's plan in building the house. Another thought struck him—he looked under the bed and saw a sight that almost congealed the blood in his veins—the body of a man with his throat cut from ear to ear! Though sickened at this revolting spectacle he did not lose his presence of mind, but rapidly considered his desperate condition and the means of averting his impending doom. His plan was soon chosen, and, overcoming his repugnance, he picked up the bleeding corpse of the murdered man and placed it on the bed, covering it carefully. He then extinguished the light, and taking his position behind the door awaited results. The moments passed slowly, and seemed lengthened into hours, but about midnight stealthy footsteps were heard approaching; the door was softly opened, and five forms were discovered in the darkness, who, with noiseless footsteps approached the bed with gleaming knives in their hands, thinking in a few seconds to glut their thirst for blood, and satisfy their greed for money which they expected to obtain by the foulest of crimes. Mr. S. did not wait to watch their movements, but slipped quietly out of the open door and made his way from the premises with all speed. Putting as great distance between him and the blood-stained portals of the den of murder, the next morning he found friends to whom he related his experience of the night before, who organized in force and succeeded in capturing four of the scoundrels, and diligent search is being made for the fifth, who was still at large. The circumstances stated above were told us by a responsible gentleman, who obtained his information from a reliable source, and that Mrs. Susong had received letters from her husband, who still in the vicinity where he so nearly met his death. The first letter stated the occurrences of the fearful night, and the second his resolution to lend all in his power to bring the villains to justice and punishment for their crimes.

LOSS OF THE SAGINAW.

Extracts from Private Letters from Her Officers.

FROM ONE OF THE ENGINEERS.

We are living in tents, with half rations twice a day—no third meal. The supplies alone would not last long, so we are eating eggs, gulls, seals and blubber. Ugh! Three cups a day is the ration of water. Everything is eaten with relish—served in washbowls, with fingers for forks.

The hands are constantly at work, Sunday and all, decking over the Captain's gig and fitting her up to make the passage to Honolulu. She has air-tight chambers in plenty, and is deemed perfectly sea-worthy. If she promptly arrives at Honolulu we shall be promptly relieved; otherwise we are liable to remain here until February. After the gig is off we are to build a much larger boat for emergencies.

We are busy all day. Letters must be ready on Wednesday, as the gig will sail that day. The ship's company enjoys tolerable health, although there has been much diarrhea and dysentery, owing to the quantity of seal oil eaten at the time. The doctor saved but few medicines; the dispensary was lost, and should disease break out he will be almost powerless to stop it in this climate.

If this reaches you there will be no cause for anxiety, so we are sure in that case of soon being relieved.

FROM PAYMASTER GEORGE H. READ.

If you could see me now you would hardly recognize me—a pair of boots almost large enough for two feet in one, ragged pants and an old felt hat; no coat—I keep that for evenings, when it is cool. I have my best uniform saved; I put that on to come ashore with. We had to wade about two hundred feet on the reef, and I stood in the water half the day, passing provisions to the boats; then went ashore and got out bread from boxes and dried it. We have been living on very short allowance, and are thankful for a spoonful of mashed potatoes and a small piece of meat twice a day, with a cup of tea in the morning. I am thankful that we are all saved, and hope to see you all in three months. * * * We have for breakfast this morning some of the brown albatross or gnomes, as we call them. We shall not want for meat, as there is an abundance of fish, seal, and turtle, so that we have no fear of starving, although the flour, rice and bread will last for but about two and a half months more. We have dug wells, but found no fresh water. At present we have a good condenser from the boiler we had on board, belonging to the contractor. I am sure there never was a shipwrecked crew having more conveniences than we have.

FROM ANOTHER OFFICER, NAME UNKNOWN.

All hands are safe, and we have got a large portion of our provisions on shore; there are also plenty of seals, birds and fish and some turtle, and we are making these our principal food. We have got up an apparatus for distilling fresh water, besides having sunk a well which yields drinkable water; so there is no danger of starving. We are all hard at work getting the gig ready to go to Honolulu. She starts to-morrow, and we hope she will reach there in from twenty to thirty days. She goes first to Midway Islands to leave notice of our situation, so that should the gig be lost, the ship, which sooner or later will be sent to look for us, and which will, of course, go to the Midways first, will know where to find us. We are in good health and spirits, and have no doubt of our finally getting off, and probably by the time this reaches you—if it ever does—we shall again be on our way to San Francisco.

MURDER ON LONG ISLAND.

A Drover and Wrecker Slain for Revenge.

The usually quiet village of Syasset, Long Island, was startled on Sunday morning by the intelligence that Mr. Garrett Worst Nostrand, a rich drover of that place, had been most brutally murdered on Saturday night on the highway, and within a hundred yards of his own house. The discovery of the dead body was made at day-break by a milkman, whose occupation called him that way, who hastened to give the alarm. The intelligence spread with uncommon rapidity, for the murdered man had been prominent in the little town. His habits and history all contribute to make him well-known, and soon the whole country side was aroused and the most exaggerated and distorted stories put in circulation. The body was found about midway between the Syasset Hotel and the home of the murdered man, lying across the roadway, under the shadow of a blacksmith shop, and presented a horrible appearance. A large cut was in the forehead as if from a hatchet, and the jaw had been cut with some blunt instrument, on both sides of the face. Inspection showed that the pockets had not been disturbed; so that the crime was probably not committed for plunder. Acting Coroner Davis, of Oyster Bay, was soon on the ground, and at once empanelled a jury, and yesterday the investigation was begun. It appeared that on Saturday evening a number of men, residents of Syasset, were in the bar-room of the hotel discussing politics, matters of local interest, and other ordinary topics. Among them was Nostrand and two men—Kelly, until recently a track-walker on the Long Island Railroad, and Levine. The conversation between these three was not quarrelsome, yet the tone and manner might have shown that there had been or was at that time a personal feeling of dislike. About 9, Worst Nostrand, as he was familiarly called, remarked that he would go home, and walked out of the house. Within five minutes both of the other men went out, taking pains to go through the back-door of the hotel. In about an hour the wife of Nostrand came in and inquired for her husband, and was answered that he had gone home about an hour before. It was further discovered that for sometime a feeling of animosity had existed between the three men named, and that Kelly had been discharged by the Long Island Railroad Company on account of representations of the murdered man.

Mr. Nostrand was a man worth from fifty to sixty thousand dollars, a large part of which it is alleged was made in the wrecking of the steamship Mexico, which went ashore on the south side of the island in 1836, and in which a large number of the passengers were drowned. He was a man of very rough exterior, and had a great number of enemies. He formerly lived in Jamaica, and Judge Fosdick of that place had charge of his property. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss. When his wife went to the hotel to inquire for her husband she must have passed within a few feet of him.

Kelly and Levine were arrested on Sunday by order of the Coroner, and will be held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A Bitter Sarcasm.

In the Golden City a gentleman by the name of Jones recounts his experience of juries. He lived in the small town of Bloodandthunderville, where he saw a man brought in "not guilty" of murder because he had shot the seducer of his wife. This gave him an idea. He remembered that in by-gone days, one Mr. McMichael had horsewhipped him with impunity. Thirsting for revenge, Jones went off and incontinentally shot McMichael; he was brought to trial, and told the jury that he once had a wife who once loved him till the spoiler came, and that spoiler's name was McMichael. Instantly the jury roared out "not guilty." Then he shot a man who had pulled his nose in days of yore. When the twelve heard him sob, "I had a sister once who—," they madly yelled "not guilty." Then he killed a man who had caned him. "Ah, gentlemen," said he to the duodecemviri, "have you mothers-in-law? I had one once, but this viper, this asp, this corba di capella, this anaconda, this boa-constrictor, the deceased—" "Not guilty," they yelled in chorus. Mr. Jones had another enemy who had cowhided him. He murdered him also, but by this time all his dissolute relatives had been used up, and when he sobbed, "Ah, gentlemen, I had a cat," the jury absurdly refused to render a verdict of "not guilty," and so his lawyer had to get a new trial for him, which he did, and thus cleared him. He is now afraid to do bloody deeds.

Amusements.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE continues to be the topic of general conversation in society, and its opening on next Monday night promises to be the grand fashionable event of the season. Everything is now ready for the curtain to ring up, and the audience will find the brilliant temple much grander than they can well imagine. The sale of seats has been very large, and the present indications are that the house will be crowded from pit to dome with the patrons of the drama. The engagement of the great actor, Chas. Fechter, and Miss Carlotta Le Clerq, and other eminent artists, for the opening season, promises to be a brilliant one. Indeed, our amusement lovers have occasion to be grateful that the management will afford them opportunity to see, heat and pass judgment upon the merits of an actor whose praises are sounded through Europe and America, and who occupies front rank among the bright particular stars of the dramatic world. The engagement was effected with difficulty, but Manager Canning determined that Fechter should open the grand new temple, and accordingly offered such high compensation as to induce him to come this way. The attendance should be large and generous, and it will be so without any doubt. The box office for the sale of seats during the entire engagement is now open.

THE OLD OPERA HOUSE.—Manager Beamer has had large patronage at the old Opera House this week, and deservedly so, too, for he has offered great attractions. The versatile and accomplished Chapman sisters still shine forth to advantage with the excellent stock company and the inimitable Bishop, Milburn, Cooper and Fields. A matinee will be given this afternoon, and a good bill is offered to-night.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—Manager Aims is enjoying a flood of prosperity at this old-established and popular place of entertainment. The grand feature of the week has been the company of blondes—seventeen beautiful girls of extraordinary terpsichorean abilities. Then Gus Williams, in his wonderfully comic Dutch songs, jokes and jests, delights the audience, and stirs even the sternest cynic to roll in laughter and merriment. A good combination bill is offered to-night, and a matinee this afternoon.

THE ACADEMY.—The chaste, novel and dignified entertainment of the Pilgrim still attracts large audiences. It is well worthy a visit. A matinee will be held this afternoon, and to-night it will be exhibited for the benefit of Wesley Chapel.

ORPHAN'S FAIR.—The interest in the Orphan's Fair continues, and nightly large assemblages gather together and spend a pleasant evening. The contests on the various articles being voted for are amusing and exciting. No where else in the city can a more pleasant time be had, and all the proceeds go to the benefit of helpless orphans.

Imitation of Nature.

Thousands of diseases could be cured if doctors gave close observation to the movements and indications of nature, whose wise and beneficient laws are sure to carry us safely through, unless contravened by our own meddlesomeness or folly—DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE has been prepared with the full purpose in view to heal the lungs, remove obstructions, purify the blood and cure all those diseases of the lungs which ultimately lead to consumption. It cured one of the former editors of this paper of a cough in one dose! it is a wonderful medicine, and is without an equal even in the cure of consumption in its worst stages. If your druggist does not keep it, send five dollars to Dr. Keyser, and he will send four boxes securely boxed, by express, with full directions how to use it.

One of the telling points made by Senator Schurz in his great speech on the San Domingo question was that the people were not fit to be sharers in our civilization. "It cannot be shown," said he, "by the most devoted supporter of this project that they use Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale, or that they even know what it is! Shall we degrade ourselves then by sharing our liberties with such a people?"

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING: Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

SATURDAY, JAN. 28, 1871.

In pursuance of the Resolution of the Republican State Central Committee, adopted at Altoona, August 16, 1870, a State Convention, composed of delegates from each Senatorial and Representative District in the number to which each district is entitled in the Legislature, will meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the 10th DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1871, to nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, and to take action upon the question of Constitutional Reform, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it.

MAHLON H. DICKINSON, Chairman Executive Committee of State Central Committee.

GEORGE W. HAMERSLY, M. S. QUAY, JAMES W. M. NEWLIN, } Secretaries. ja27

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 110½@110⅝.

THE Editorial Association of Pennsylvania is now in session at Harrisburg.

THE State Republican Convention will be held at Harrisburg on the 10th day of next March. It will nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General.

THE recently elected United States Senator of Kansas, Hon. Alexander Caldwell, is a native of Pennsylvania, and was for many years identified with the Columbia bank. He has been eight years a resident of Kansas.

THE report of the Income Tax, by the Senate, will be received by the people with general satisfaction. The report made by General Pleasonton was so conclusive that to have refused to repeal it would have been an aggressive act, and scarcely excusable. It is to be hoped that the House will now take the subject promptly in hand, and dispose of it in a similar manner.

WE have received several communications from prominent citizens of Sharpsburg in regard to bill No. 56, now before the Legislature, asking for certain privileges. We say emphatically, our members should kill all bills of this kind. We do not know who the parties are that are asking for its passage, but all such special legislation, especially where our courts have full jurisdiction, should not be introduced, let alone passed.

THE BEGINNING AND THE END of the Franco-Prussian war, seem to be taking the same hue and color. It will be remembered that the charge was made, that Bazaine surrendered with a perfect understanding on the part of King William and Napoleon. The charge was denied, but the instant that terms of peace are talked of, we find the fact taking form and shape again. It is now rumored that Bismarck has asserted that if Favre refuses an unconditional surrender, he (Bismarck) will restore Napoleon. It may be that the rumor is untrue, but it certainly must have some foundation. There probably is little doubt of Favre refusing to surrender "on German terms" and Bismarck's asserted threat will very soon be known to be true or untrue.

MORE TROUBLE seems likely to arise out of the action of those members of the First Class at West Point, than was at first suspected. It will be remembered that certain members of this First Class took upon themselves the prerogative of punishing three members of the Fourth Class by driving them from West Point. An investigation by the officers of that Institution, resulted in a very slight punishment on the offenders. Congress, however, took the matter in hand and sent a committee to investigate all the facts. Nor does it cease there, for a very decided opinion has been expressed, urging not only the dismissal of the whole of the First Class, and even of the officers in charge, but also extends to abolishing West Point altogether, and relying on the several colleges throughout the country, that have adopted a system of military education in connection with other branches.

AN INQUIRY should be at once set afoot by the legislature in reference to the public printing. The bids made are of such a character as to warrant the belief that there is something radically wrong connected with them. One of two things is self-evident. Either the State Government is cheating the contractors in contracting for the work at such bids, or the contractors who get the work are cheating the State Government. We do not believe there can be any middle opinion taken. In this connection we would be pleased to know, how many different times the Government message is charged with composition. It is first printed for the Governor, then for the Senate, and for the House and we do not know how many times more. Is there a charge for composition each time? A bill is read in place, reported from Committee, and read for its passage. It is printed every time, is it charged for composition also? This we understand is called "padding." How much of it is done? Is it not time when the bids for printing take the character of those lately published, that we should have a complete and thorough investigation?

MR. WHITE'S BILL.

We referred in our issue of yesterday to Mr. White's bill for the Reduction of Fees, and we desire now to call attention to a few more facts connected therewith.

Res. 18 of the late County Convention was never intended to weigh upon, or be connected with, the resolution requiring public officers to be salaried. The cry of the Reform party prior to the election was, that the Sheriff and other public officers, should receive a certain amount of the fees, and the balance of those fees should be turned into the county treasury, to assist in reducing general taxation. It will not have been forgotten that there was a great deal of this kind of talk from the Reform speakers, and that it was urgently advocated by them. The Republican Convention, however, standing on ground somewhat different from that, passed a resolution to this effect: that if the receipts under existing laws amounted to more than a just and liberal salary for the officer, "the true policy is, instead of trying to save a portion of those (the fees) for the State or county, to reduce the fees so as to yield only a just compensation to the officers."

Now this resolution is perfectly plain, and has nothing whatever to do with the one requiring the officers to be salaried. Any objection therefore to Mr. White's bill, on the ground that there is nothing said about a reduction of the fees in it, is not founded on a good reason. It is absolutely necessary in the first place, that we should ascertain what the fees are "under existing laws." Are they low enough already? The charges that were made during the campaign were, that public officers did not adhere to the fee bill, but charged pretty much as they pleased, and what they pleased. If this is true, and we know that the fee bill has been departed from in some instances, it would be doing a very great wrong to reduce the present fees, without first ascertaining that a reduction could be made without injuring the taxpayers generally. If, for instance, the charge made for satisfying a judgment should be as high as seventy five cents, when the legal fee might only be ten cents, there might some danger arise in our blindly attempting to reduce the fee from the seventy-five cents charged, of actually raising the fee.

There is always more or less excitement consequent upon a positive innovation of the character now proposed by the Republican party. There is great danger of running into extreme measures through gross selfishness. The Reform party and the regular Republican party ought not to be regarded as bidders for some public contract, the lowest bidder to gain the work. And yet that is just what we are running into. We regard the argument that the balance of fees after paying a salary to the public officers should go in the Treasury to assist in paying our taxes, as little and mean in idea as a great party could possibly entertain. The intention of those hitherto framing our laws was, to throw open the doors of our several Courts, so that the poorest man in the community might prosecute or defend his rights. The idea never entered into the minds of those men, that our citizens out of the distresses and misfortunes of our fellow men, might create a selfish fund, for the payment of our taxes. It was never intended, that a man from the blacksmith shop or the mines, should toil day after day, that he might put his hard earned money into the County Treasury to help pay the taxes of the millionaire, merely because he was unfortunate enough to be thrown into a law suit. It may be a popular idea, but it is a grossly selfish one, but it was not endorsed in convention nor will we uphold it now. We do not regard it as Republican, but on the contrary feel that it is hinging strongly on the English system, where a poor man would infinitely rather lose his just claim of a few dollars, than face the dangerous technicalities of the law, with its fearful array of costs.

Mr. White's bill therefore does, in our opinion, meet the requirements of the Convention, and his desire to ascertain, by actual experiment, whether the present legitimate fees need reduction, is creditable and wise. If they are not more than just sufficient to pay the salaries of the officers, then they should not be reduced. We apprehend that very few persons in our community will undertake to say without trial, whether they are low enough or not. The fees offered to the public officers are all quite low. We have always entertained the belief that very low salaries for public officers had a pernicious influence. The fee system we have ever deprecated as opening a door for fraud. But if we were to advocate an increase of the salary proposed, it would not be on the grounds so clamorously presented to the public—responsibility.

So far as the responsibility is concerned, the salary proposed for the sheriff is sufficiently ample. His responsibility is a matter almost within his own control, and has much more of the shadow than substance about it. The Court throws its protecting arms around him, and he is not required to take or assume any great responsibility without being fully protected by an indemnifying bond. This is a fact well known, and more than this, where he may not apply for such a bond, he can apply for an order of Court sufficient for his protection. If therefore he is liable, in most cases that liability arises from his own neglect, and he has no claims on the people in that respect.

Another defect, or that which we regard as a defect, is the position assumed with regard to the District Attorney. He, too, is required to collect all fees in advance. To be sure there is a provision that the rule is not to apply to fees charged on the County Treasury. But this is just where the difficulty arises. We may start out with the broad ground that no fees are chargeable, as a matter of course, on the County Treasury. To meet our proposition squarely, we instance an indictment for a felony. The costs follow the verdict. This single sentence shows the fact, in no instance whatever can it be said that a trial in our Quarter Sessions is provided with any law requiring the county to pay the costs. Suppose an individual is tried for burglary and convicted. He is sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution. In such a case, under the literal reading of Mr. White's bill, the District Attorney would be liable for not having collected all the fees in advance. From whom is he to collect them? The Clerk of the Quarter Sessions issues a summons on behalf of the Commonwealth, and the defendant is convicted and fails to pay the costs. Who is liable? Or to go further, take the case of assault and battery, where the costs do not follow the verdict, and the Clerk issues a subpœna on behalf of the Commonwealth. From whom is he to collect his fee of twenty-five cents in either instance? Suppose a presentment is returned by the Grand Jury without a prosecutor to collect from,—how is the Clerk or District Attorney to carry out the law? Suppose a prosecution is pushed by the Commonwealth, where the prosecution does not desire to convict the defendant. From whom are the fees for issuing the subpœna to be collected, for the prosecutor will not ask for it?

We submit these further facts with reference to Mr. White's bill. Its fault is, it is too long, and embraces too much. It could be amended very materially by striking three fourths of it out, and giving us a plain square bill, specifically defining the salaries to be paid to each officer without any conditions annexed, and to be paid by warrant on the County Treasurer; requiring the legitimate fee bill to be hung up in each office in not less than two conspicuous places, subject to the examination of any one demanding it; and if deemed necessary, a further provision, that every plaintiff in any action should be required to deposit a specific sum that in amount would equal the usual amount of costs to bring a case to trial. We confess that we do not like the last feature, but shall raise no positive objection, believing that the trial of a simple year, will be sufficient to satisfy our people that it works a positive injury to the litigant who is poor, and gives an undue advantage to the one who is wealthy. But we have pledged ourselves to the salary system, and if it is made a law, there must be some provision to prevent costs accumulating on the docket. There is no pecuniary inducement for the officers to collect them, and therefore in very many instances would never be collected. For this reason, we see no other remedy than that they should be paid in advance, in some specific sum, which might perhaps have one single virtue in it—that of reducing useless litigation.

"If there are any of the fairer sex entitled to what is technically called "women's rights," it is those who are not only forced by cruel circumstances to earn their own living, but not unfrequently are the sole dependents of parents."

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: The above is taken from the editorial columns of The Paper, issue of 26th inst. It is respectfully referred to the writer in that journal, who, a little while ago, undertook to criticise the grammar in the Grand Jury presentment. JUROR.

PROFESSOR HUXLEY is opposed to the view that animals found living in the dark regions of the lowest sea depths are dependent for light upon the phosphorescence of some of the species, and sees no reason for concluding that they cannot live without light. So he stated lately before the Royal Geographical Society. He also doubts the accuracy of the very cold temperatures said to have been found at great depths, and thinks that those taken in the Indian Ocean may be explained by the fact that they were taken by thermometers not rectified for pressure.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The question of reading the Bible in public schools was before the Illinois House of Representatives last week. A resolution was offered by a young member from Chicago, to discontinue Bible reading in the public schools. After a brief discussion the resolution was laid on the table by a vote of ninety-one to forty-two. Further action refers the settlement of the question to each school district respectively, where directors will treat the question directly under the supervision of the people.

It currently reported in a Chicago paper, that the decision in the Whitehouse-Cheney case, is likely to be adverse to Rector Cheney.

There is much sober truth in the incident of a Boston minister, who had preached on "The Recognition of Friends in the Future," that it would be more to the point to preach about the recognition of friends here, as some persons had been in church-fellowship many years, and didn't know any of its members.

Arrangements have been made in a Baptist church, in Akron, Ohio, for heating the water that supplies the font.

A Methodist layman in Mackinaw, Michigan, has offered twenty-five thousand acres of land toward the erection of a Methodist University in the northern part of that State.

At the Roman Catholic meeting, recently held at Richmond, Va., to protest against the occupation of Rome by the King of Italy, the Bishop of the Diocese said: "The Reformation had given birth to the heresy that the people are the source of power, but it was becoming every day more apparent that they cannot be governed by their own consent."

A correspondent of the Lutheran Observer announces that one hundred and seventeen new Lutheran churches had been dedicated in the United States during the year 1870, being a fraction over two every week.

The colored Methodists of the Southern Church, in their new organization, have determined that their churches shall not be used for political purposes, and that no white person shall be admitted as members. The impression prevails that the organization of the colored members into a separate church was the act of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Not so. This body incorporates the colored element into their ministry, and members white and black being comprised in its membership.

The Newark Advertiser represents that a vestryman of one of the Episcopal churches in Newark, after services in his own sanctuary, concluded to drop into the Methodist, church, where a revival meeting was in course of progress. He took a prominent seat, and owing to the loss of sleep the previous night, he fell asleep. Presently the pastor extended an invitation to all sinners who "desired the prayers of the church to stand up." The vestryman awoke just in time to hear the last two words, which he supposed had been addressed to the whole congregation as an injunction to rise to their feet. He stood up, and was astonished to hear the pastor exclaim: "There's one poor sinner, thank God; let us all pray for him." The congregation bowed their heads, and the good pastor prayed long and fervently for the conversion of the vestryman.

Rev. Theodore Cuyler's last article in the Independent, "The Spices in God's Garden," is the two hundred and sixtieth which he has contributed to that paper.

The United Presbyterian of this city argues that there is nothing unpresbyterial in the plan of electing elders for a limited time; and it thinks that congregations should be free to choose and keep in office over them one class of rulers as well as another—that is, pastors.

The United Presbyterian body has seven churches in New England, exclusive of the churches composing the Presbytery of Vermont. These seven churches have an average membership of one hundred and one, and contributed last year to Church purposes seventeen dollars per member.

According to recent statistics there are about sixty thousand members in the Baptist Church in Pennsylvania, including a small body of Welsh and German societies not associated with the regular body.

The Chicago Methodist Advocate gives a remarkable scene in Embury church. The pastor being absent, a brother named Carey conducted the services, and after participating in the service of prayer, and relating his experience, he closed with words of prayer, and fell to the floor dead.

A movement is on foot to establish a Methodist Reading room in Boston, for the young people of that Church, to get acquainted with each other, and co-operate in building up its interests.

SCIENTIFIC.

THE Washington Republican says: "The design of the national monument in honor of Professor S. F. B. Morse, which is to be erected in or near the Patent Office, consists of a colossal statue of Professor Morse, nine feet in height, surrounding an appropriate shaft and base, seventeen feet high, enriched with numerous sculptures illustrating the various phases of the invention. In the cornice are wrought the busts of the eminent men who have aided in extending the uses of the telegraph. In the frieze are represented the capitols and other characteristic specimens of the architecture of Europe, Asia, Africa, and America, over which are suspended the telegraph wires. The entire plane of the cylindrical shaft of the base below the frieze is surrounded by groups of figures in high relief, representing the American inventions for speeding the material and intellectual commerce of the world; the series culminating in the electric telegraph. Surrounding the base are four pedestals, surmounted by life-size statues personating the four quarters of the globe. The panels of the base are filled with appropriate symbols in low relief—the one below the front of the chief statue containing the forms of the artist's palette and brushes, the electrical machine, and the galvanic battery, grouped together. The entire work, with the exception of the lower base and pedestals, will be wrought in bronze, and the cost nearly one hundred thousand dollars. Professor Morse, under the date of December 30, 1870, writes to Mr. J. D. Reid: "In reply to your request for my opinion of the statue, which under the flattering promptings, principally of operators of the telegraph, not only of the United States but in Canada, Mr. Pickett was chosen to model, I have only to say that, as a work of art, I consider it eminently successful, and in the highest degree creditable to the genius of the sculptor. In regard to its usefulness as a likeness others must be the judge. Generally the most fastidious critics in this respect, as artists well know, are the family of the sitter. In this case every member of my family who has had an opportunity of seeing the statue pronounces it a faithful likeness."

ACCORDING to recent researches, petroleum, when exposed to solar light, absorbs oxygen and changes it into ozone, although this does not combine with the oil, the ozone remaining free, and oxidizing everything with which it comes in contact. Petroleum oil, impregnated with ozone, has a totally altered smell, burns with more difficulty, and attacks the cork stoppers of the vessels very strongly. If the vessels are of glass, their color exercises much influence upon the absorption of oxygen by the petroleum. Thus, petroleum oils, when exposed in white glass to solar and daylight, become yellow and impregnated with ozone, assuming a greater specific gravity, and losing their ready combustibility. This is said to be especially the case with American petroleums. The practical inference may therefore be deducted that petroleum intended for burning should be kept in stone or metal vessels; or, if in glass, protected as much as as possible against the influence of daylight.

DR. ROBERT, of Paris, recommends earnestly the use of salts of copper as the best preservative against the weathering of stone in a moist climate, and endeavors to prove that the wasting away of sandstone and granite is due to various causes, one of the most important of which is the development of a minute lichen (the Lepra antiquitalis). This plant is so destructive that the beautiful marble sculptures in the park, at Versailles, would be completely destroyed by it in the space of fifty years, unless precautions were taken to arrest its ravages. Dr. Robert states that the amount of weathering away of rocks of all kinds, granite not excepted, is much greater than the public generally are aware of, especially when subjected to the influence of a moist atmosphere. Thus, the obelisk of Luxor, which was brought to Paris from Egypt forty years ago, has become completely bleached out, and full of small cracks, while for the previous forty centuries, during which it stood in Egypt, no change had been produced.

A NEW, artificial stone, known as Victoria stone, is now being manufactured in England by a process perfected by a Mr. Highton. This consists in mixing broken granite, the refuse of granite quarries, with hydraulic cement, and steeping the mass in silicate of soda. For this purpose the concrete masses to be silicified are immersed in a tank of silicate of soda, in which are placed pieces of a peculiar silicious stone obtained at Farnham, possessing the property of having its silica in such a state as to dissolve in cold caustic soda. The lime of the concrete mass takes silica from the silicate, and the soda set free re-dissolves silica from the Farnham stone. Hence the process is continuous.

ONE of the French prisoners in Magdeburg has invented a machine for the manufacture of brick which it is said to beat anything known heretofore of that character. He has sold his invention to a German firm, who have paid him over $15,000 for it. The inventor was formerly a poor day laborer in France, but after being taken as a prisoner to Magdeburg was put to work in the neighborhood of a brick-yard, where he watched the operation, and in his leisure hours worked out his machine.

IN any part of the ocean where telegraph lines have been laid, the greatest depth does not equal eighteen thousand feet.

POLITICAL NOTES.

GOV. HOLDEN's trial before the Court of Impeachment of the North Carolina Legislature will begin on Monday.

THE New York Commercial Advertiser is coquetting with the doctrines of free trade. If protectionists think it worth buying, the price should be found out at once.

THE Democratic Convention at New Haven, Connecticut, on Tuesday, nominated John Kendrick, of Waterbury, for member of Congress for the Second District.

MRS. BLANCHE BUTLER AMES is announced as having become a believer in Woman's Suffrage doctrines. Since the reporters dropped them here, Pittsburgh has sadly back-slidden we fear.

A MONTGOMERY, Ala., paper says: "That gallant soldier and chivalrous gentleman, Gen. N. B. Forrest, is in the city." We doubt not that the Bethlehem weekly Toady duly chronicled the arrival in "our city" of "that mild, gentle, bland and sweet-tempered Governor Herod."

THE Select Committee on the Census have agreed to report a bill increasing the pay of Deputy United States Marshals who have been engaged on the census, so that for field service the pay will average from $3 to $5 per day. The number of deputies is about 50,000.

THE New York Commercial Advertiser says: Some New Jersey Republicans are said to object to Senator Frelinghuysen on the ground that he belongs to the "kid glove aristocracy." We had hoped that New York was the only place where "clean hands" were a disqualification for office.

THE New York World now admits that Grant is honest; more than once it has directly, indirectly or by insinuation charged him with not simple dishonesty but with crime of every degree of intensity. The World thus proved out of its internal evidence to be a liar, who but fools can hereafter attach significance to its shrieks of rage?

A NEW argument in favor of the immediate reapportionment of members of Congress is that, unless it is done before the next Presidential election, and there should then be no election by the people, the choice by Congress might not express the will of the people. The Forty-second Congress, already elected, would decide the issue, and the only way in which this possible embarrassment can be avoided will be to allow the States entitled to additional members to elect them on a ticket at large.

FATE.

The sky is clouded, the rocks are bare;
The spray of the tempest is white in air;
The winds are out with the waves at play,
And I shall not tempt the sea to-day.

The trail is narrow, the wood is dim,
The panther clings to the arching limb;
And the lion's whelps are abroad at play,
And I shall not join in the chase to-day.

But the ship sailed safely o'er the sea,
And the hunters came from the chase in glee;
And the town that was built upon a rock
Was swallowed up in the earthquake shock.
—BRET HARTE.

SIR WALTER SCOTT.

The Centenary of His Birth.

Arrangements are on foot in Edinburgh for an imposing commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Sir Walter Scott. This wonderful man came into the world on the 15th of August, 1771, exactly two years after the appearance of Napoleon at Ajaccio. The two children, destined to exert so powerful a sway over their fellow-beings, passed from infancy into manhood at the same time, the one on the sunny island of Corsica, the other amid the fogs of Scotland. How different their careers as their characters! Scott wielded the pen and Napoleon the sword—Scott to bless and Napoleon to desolate the world. How many have been gladdened by the writings of Scott it would be impossible to compute. The evil that was done by Napoleon lives after him in the present sorrow and humiliation of France. It were easy to pursue the contrast, to multiply antitheses, in contemplating what these men were and what they accomplished. And what remains? Seventeen months ago the centenary of Napoleon was celebrated with unusual pomp in the glittering capital which now crumples beneath the fire of the German seige-guns. This will probably remain the last celebration of the anniversary. But Scott's birthday will long be gratefully commemorated in all English-speaking lands, and the approaching centennial observance of it in his native city will possess an interest that has not been exceeded in our time. "The pen," says Richelieu, in the language which Bulwer puts into the mouth of the Cardinal and which can never become backneyed, "is mightier than the sword." —N. Y. Post.

A Jersey Fish Story.

The last fish story comes from New Jersey. Lately, in the interior of that State, a mild looking countryman entered a railroad car, bearing a bundle tied up in a handkerchief, which he placed under his seat at the end of the car. After traveling along for about half an hour, a lady sitting in front of the countryman was observed to move uneasily in her seat, and to cast savage glances at a seemingly respectable man sitting by her side.

In a few moments afterwards another lady, still further to the front, "became uneasy," and at last, rising in her seat, requested that some gentleman in the car would protect her from an elderly looking gentleman by her side, whom she stated had insulted her.

A dozen persons offered their assistance, and before the accused could speak in his own defence, his hat was jammed over his eyes, and he was dragged to the rear of the car.

While there and carrying on with the avengers a war of words as to what the indignity meant, still another lady rose also seated further up the car, and accused a gentleman sitting behind her with improper conduct. A rush was made for the insulter number two, but that gentleman vigorously defended himself with a large walking stick he happened to have (and which, by the by, was the one cause of the last troubles, his accuser stating that he had indecorously been rapping her ankles under the seat with the same) and while the struggle to get at him was still in progress, some one in the front of the car shouted there's a "snake on the floor." A scence then ensued. The ladies in the car climbed upon the seats, and many got on the arms and backs of the same. One elderly maiden managed to stand on the back of two seats, in the best circus manner under the circumstances, while a young mother threw her baby into a parcel rack, and then hung convulsively to a ventilator.

The confusion awoke the countryman, who, on being told of the snake, first felt in his bundle, and then exclaimed, "I'm blamed if that old eel haint got loose," started for the front, and soon returned grasping firmly an immense eel, which he had first caught while out fishing, but which, when brought into the car, had managed to get out of the bundle, and had wended its way to the front, lovingly caressing the different varieties of ladies' garters which he encountered on the way. Apologies given and received straightened everything in that car but the hat that was jammed down, and, the countryman leaving at the next station, no blood was drawn.

THE LESSON OF NATURE.

Torpor is the characteristic of winter. Vegetation dies or falls into a state of trance. The whole aspect of inanimate nature teaches us that there is a paralyzing influence in the air, and ought to teach us that our bodies require an increase of vital power to contend with it. Some of even the warm-blooded animals bury themselves in the earth and remain in a state of partial stupefaction until the season is over, and the elixir of the spring sunshine stimulates their stagnant blood, and restores their vigor. But man, although he feels the influence of the season, can protect himself against its inclemency. He has fuel to warm him externally, and can tone and strengthen his internal organization and endow it with the extra amount of vitality which the circumstances require. Of all invigorants that have ever been recommended for this purpose, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the purest and best. Fortified by the daily use of this wholesome vegetable tonic, the human system may defy the chills and damps of winter in any latitude. Its effect is to promote a brisk and regular circulation of the blood, and activity in all the secretive organs. Without the slightest tendency to produce fever, it imparts a healthful glow to the surface, and stimulates the exterior vessels to discharge, in the form of general perspiration, the useless matter eliminated from the blood. Thus the system is kept unclogged. Fever and ague, biliousness, indigestion and colic, all of which are the common consequences of the searching damps and low temperature of winter may be avoided (as well as cured) by a course of this genial tonic and alterative.

Keep Your Houses Clean, AND SAVE FUEL, BY USING THE Wellman Patent Reflector STOVE AND GRATE. Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

SECURITY! JUSTICE! ECONOMY!

Life Association* OF AMERICA.

West Pennsylvania Department.
OFFICE:
100 Fourth Avenue,
PITTSBURGH.
ANTHONY M. COCHRANE, } Managers.
JAMES M. MACRUM, }

THE LIFE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA, organized in St. Louis, in June, 1868, has already attained the proportion of a NATIONAL INSTITUTION.

Its plan of HOME INVESTMENTS—by which the Trustees of every Department invest the funds thereof—gives a sense of security to those insuring, that cannot otherwise be realized. Hence it is everywhere welcomed as a LOCAL INSTITUTION—all the advantages of which it combines with those resulting from its extensive field of operations.

The JUSTICE of the principle of HOME INVESTMENTS—giving every community the use of the money it invests in insurance—is universally acknowledged.

Nor less is ECONOMY a characteristic of this ASSOCIATION. It has actually secured two-thirds of its earliest business at about one-third the cost of the ordinary business of most other companies;—and the ECONOMY would be still more strikingly apparent, if the comparison were made with their earliest business.

Hence, for these and other reasons, the greater DIVIDEND PAYING POWER of the LIFE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA, and consequently the greater CHEAPNESS and SECURITY of insuring in it will at once be manifest.

The plan of the LIFE ASSOCIATION is universally approved by business men in all sections of the country.

"Success is the Best Criterion."

2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, to Puget Sound.

While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the Road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon the great national improvement.

THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interests of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times in their control, as security, 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the Government is no longer a borrower, and as the Nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of DEVELOPING A CONTINENT, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security that

United States 5-20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5½ per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and specie payments be resumed, they would really pay only 4½ per cent., or if in three years only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.

Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax. $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62.00. $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold, $80.30. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one-third, besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.

THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun in July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—233 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early Spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and a wise economy.

RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 1-10, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price.

BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principle and interest, at any of the financial centres of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over the subscription price may be looked for.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the Road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to rebuy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us at this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST...

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27, 1871.

Gold dull and firm at 110⅝@110⅞. The prices paid for carrying are 4 to 6 per cent. The clearances are about $18,000,000. Governments are strong and active; 10-40's are most dealt in, and have advanced from ⅛ to ¼ per cent. The stock market thus far to-day has been dull, but in tone strong, with the principal dealing in Rock Island, Ohio & Mississippi, Lake Shore, New York Central, St. Paul and North Western preferred. In the miscellaneous list Quicksilver and Boston Water Power were noticeably active and strong. In express stocks the United States has been the feature, with sales at 38⅝@40. Rock Island rose to 8⅞, the highest point reached during the month. The Evening Post says: We have good reason for saying that arrangements have been completed to-day, whereby the following gentlemen go into the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad at their next election in March: Mr. J. Edgar Thompson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, Mr. Thos. A. Scott, Vice-President of the same, Mr. Geo. M. Pullman, of the Pullman Car Company, Chicago, and Mr. Andrew Carregee, President of the Union Iron Works, Pittsburgh. Mr. Thomas A. Scott is to be President of the Company, who with other named gentlemen will become members of the Executive Committee. Money easy at 5 to 6 per cent. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 27, 1871.

The oil market continues firm and prices are still tending upward, though there appears to be but very little doing. Some of the brokers reported that they had considerable "on the way," but that it was very difficult to make anything go through; in some instances the buyer was not satisfactory, and in others, objection was taken to the seller. The rumored surrender of Paris, imported considerable strength to the market, and notwithstanding this news has not yet been confirmed, the influence of the rumor has not been wholly lost. It is generally conceded that in the event of this foreign war being brought to a close, that there will be an improvement in the oil business, though peace would not have as much effect at this particular time, as it would later in the year.

CRUDE.

Market firm, but there is no quotable change in prices; and there seems to be little or no difference made between spot deliveries and long options. Seller almost any delivery between now and July may be quoted at 11 cts; buyer until July, 12; buyer all year, 13⅝c.

REFINED.

Quiet but firm. January, 24⅝, February, 24⅝; March, 24⅝; May, 25⅝; buyer until July, 26⅝; lines, February to June inclusive, 25⅝; February to April, 25⅝.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, January 27, 1871.

The condition of the metal market remains substantially as at our last report. The demand continues good and prices remain firm at previous quotations. There is no disposition to make any concessions at all to effect sales, and some of the favorite brands having been fully sold up for the next 60 days, are now being held at higher rates. Eastern brands are in fair request at slightly appreciated prices. The supply from this quarter threatens a reduction unless the coal miners strike is soon ended, as some of the furnaces are already feeling the scarcity of coal. There has been an improved inquiry for blooms, the prices of which have kept a downward pace with other products of iron, and seem now to be as low as the cost of producing them will allow. The demand for manufactured iron is very good for the season of the year, and the mills find themselves fully employed to keep pace with their orders while stocks in first hands are exceedingly light. Altogether, the year opens with encouraging prospects for an active and satisfactory business.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose steadily all day yesterday, with about 6 feet in the channel last evening. Weather continues cold.

The Carrie Brooks being unable to fight the ice any further, is laid up at Steubenville.

The Monongahela river is reported as having risen 6 feet at Clark's Coal Yard, and, at last accounts, still rising at the rate of 10 inches per hour.

The St. Charles was to have departed last night for Cincinnati.

The Granite State arrived from Portsmouth on Thursday night, with an excellent trip. In consequence of the formidable character of the ice, Com. Kerr decided to postpone his departure until to-day: if the weather should continue cold it is probable that she will not depart until next week.

The Brownsville packets continue to arrive and depart on time. The old and reliable mail line send out two boats daily, one leaving at 8 a. m., and the other at 4:30 p. m.

Capt. J. T. Dunlap is in command of the Ironsides. She left Cairo for New Orleans with 1,650 tons.

The rumor which was current on Thursday in regard to the burning of the new steamer Glencoe, is no doubt untrue. How such a report could have been started, we are at a loss to imagine.

The towboat Samson arrived. The Juniata and Silver Lake No. 4 are among the first boats due.

The Exchange, Capt. A. C. M'Callum, is announced for Nashville forthwith, as is also the Kate Putnam, Capt. Ed. Evans, for New Orleans. These are both good boats, and will be the first out for the points for which they are advertised.

The Argosy is still laid up. She has been lying quietly at the wharf all winter.

—The following is Mr. Garfield's bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Lighthouse Board. It has been read twice in the United States House of Representatives, and referred to the Committee on Commerce:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the jurisdiction of the Lighthouse Board, created by the act entitled, "An act making appropriations for lighthouses, lightboats, buoys, and so forth," approved August thirty-one, eighteen hundred and fifty-two, is hereby extended so as to include the Mississippi river from St. Paul to its mouth, the Missouri river from Sioux City to its mouth, and the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to its mouth; and the said board is hereby required to arrange these rivers into one or more lighthouse districts, to be in all respects on the same footing as the existing lighthouse districts; and to take the proper means to supply these rivers with such lights, buoys, channel marks, and other aids to navigation as may be necessary for the security of commerce.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to carry out the provisions of this act.

—Capt. John Smoker has sued Tom Leathers for $25,000 for non-fulfillment of contract. After Leathers sunk the General Quitman in October, 1868, he was placed in charge of the Governor Allen, which was chartered at $5,000 per month to be run in the Vicksburg trade, to carry the mail, Leathers to receive one-fourth of the profits, and the Allen to run until Leathers could complete his new boat. On the second trip of the Allen he got aboard the Belle Lee, and upon reaching New Orleans transferred to her his crew and orders, and run the latter vessel until April, 1869, earning a net profit of $30,000. The Allen tried the trade in opposition to the Lee, and lost $2,300 on the first trip, after which she quit and went into the Washita trade. Capt. Leathers claims that the Allen was benefitted by changing trades, and that he don't owe her owner's a cent.

—The Potomac arrived at Memphis Monday, seven days out from New Orleans, and discharged there 50 tons groceries. She added 1,077 bales cotton, and left for Cincinnati. She reported very bad weather all the way up. Her cargo on boat and barge consisted of nearly 600 tons, including Robinson's Circus Troupe, on its way here, and which is said to have got on a big tear Monday night.

—A towboat, supposed to be the Lion, going down the river, Wednesday morning, with a tow of coal, ran over the Condor's barges at Four Mile, sunk some time ago, and passengers on the Kate Henderson report great efforts being made to save one or two of the Lion's loaded barges.

—A bill granting a charter and incorporating a company for the removal of the raft in Red river, and improving the navigation of said river, and other purposes, was introduced a few days ago in the House of Representatives of Louisiana.

—Capt. Geo. W. Neare informs the Evansville Journal that his estimate of the loss of freight by the sinking of the H. S. Turner is $35,000; but Capt. Thos. F. Eckert tells us it must be much more than that.

—The St. Luke, reported aground on Turkey Island, was helped off by the Mountaineer, and arrived at Cairo on Wednesday. She was eight days out from St. Louis.

HOME NEWS.

Office Rooms To-Let.—Several fine office rooms can be had from April 1, in "Gazette Building," corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield streets. Apply at once.

Splendid.—The sleighing.

The Rink will be crowded this afternoon and evening.

Over two hundred sleighs were on the road to Keating's last night.

Official.—The regular monthly meeting of City Councils will be held on Monday afternoon.

Where is dead head corner in the new Opera House, is the press conundrum of the hour.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, the smoke house of David Bann, in Allegheny, was partially destroyed by fire. Loss $60.

Y. M. C. A.—Monthly meeting this evening. Good music, reports and discussion of the work. The friends of the Association (ladies included) are invited.

Attention is called to the advertisement of a man wanted as agent for an insurance company under the head of wants. To a competent man there is certainly a rare opportunity.

The formation of an "Industrial Association is talked of. A preliminary meeting was to have been held on Thursday afternoon, but the attendance was too small. Another attempt will be made in a few days.

The Suffragans.—The public are invited to attend the next regular meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association on Thursday next at 3 P. M. in the Third National Bank building, on the corner of Wood street and Virgin alley.

J. N. McCullough, Esq., has been appointed General Manager of the Pan Handle Railroad. Mr. McCullough has now two thousand five hundred miles of road under his management—a fact which attests his qualifications as a railroad man.

The Western University.—The next term will commence Tuesday, February 1st. Applications for admission can be made at the University Building, corner of Ross and Diamond streets. Public examination of classes the 30th and 31st inst.

Mayor Brush yesterday morning fined John Wilkinson twenty-five dollars and costs for striking an officer. John had been indulging in the pleasant pastime of beating a colored man, and when approached by the officer, turned and struck him.

Repaired.—Yesterday the "Alarm Bell" which has been out of order for several days was taken down by Superintendent Paisley and repaired by the renewing of some chains and rivets that had worn out. It is now in as good working order as ever.

Runaway Sleigh Smashed.—Yesterday afternoon a horse attached to a sleigh belonging to Mr. Hoffman ran away on Ohio street, Allegheny, and was brought up by a wagon standing in front of Beckert's blacksmith shop. The only damage was to the sleigh, which was considerably broken.

Bit a Piece off His Cheek.—Richard Sloane made an information before Alderman Thomas yesterday charging Michael McKenna with Mahem. Sloane, who keeps a tavern on the corner of Penn avenue and Walnut streets, alleges that McKenna bit a piece out his cheek. McKenna was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Horse Stolen.—On Wednesday night a horse valued at four hundred dollars was stolen from the stables of Mr. McKelvey, at Wilkinsburg. There were some ten others in the stable at the time, but the thief, with a true eye for worth, selected the best. Suspicion points to a colored hostler formerly in the employ of Mr. McKelvey.

On Thursday night about eleven o'clock as Major Burnell and his wife were passing along Duquesne Way, three men jumped out of Barker's Alley, one of whom knocked the Major down, the other two taking hold of Mrs. B. whose shrieks brought the toll keeper at the bridge and another man to the rescue, when the ruffians fled.

Coal Boats Sunk.—There was a rumor in the city that a pair of coal boats, owned by a Mr. Mitchell, which left the city on Friday last in charge of Pilot McLaughlin, were sunk at Manchester Island, about one hundred miles this side Cincinnati, on Tuesday last. We made dilligent enquiry, but were unable to gather particulars.

Robert Givens a lad of fourteen, son of the female "detective" accidently shot himself while playing with a loaded pistol, at the residence of his grandmother on Nineteenth street on Thursday night. The family being in destitute circumstances and unable to employ a physician, Mayor Brush requested Dr. Murdoch to attend to the lad.

Row in East Liberty.—On Thursday night, a party of rowdies, said to be from Wilkinsburg, drove to the saloon of Jerry Marchant, at East Liberty, where they got into a difficulty among themselves. The police interfered to quiet the disturbance, but failed, some of them being pretty roughly handled. The rioters finally dispersed of their own accord.

Concluded.—Mr. M. W. Canning has concluded his arrangements with Mr. William Coleman, and will remain as the lessee and manager of the New Opera House. This announcement is authorized and will put a quietus to the rumor circulated to the effect that the popular and efficient manager was about to retire from connection with the elegant new temple.

Sold.—The Post was sadly victimized in the publication of a forged letter, over the signature of Col. R. H. K. Whitley, on the question of the removal of the Arsenal. He is in Texas. There has been an average of over two hundred barrels of gunpowder in the magazines of the Arsenal during the past two years. It is kept in fire-proof magazines, and well guarded.

Free to All.—Do not forget the exhibition at the School of Design to-day. It will close this evening, and we advise all our readers who have not already visited it to embrace the opportunity yet remaining. The rooms are daily filled with groups of admiring visitors who linger long before the beautiful landscapes and lovely flowers, and leave at length with reluctance.

The snow, which has added so much to the beauty of out-door things, also has had an effect in making the home circle the club house, and the friendly gatherings around the easy fire, so much more enjoyable. All that there remains to complete the pleasure of the smoker is a cigar and a supply of that tobacco which Megraw, No. 45 Ninth street, especially prepares for such occasions.

The Boarding House for Working Women will be formally opened next Tuesday evening, January 31, with suitable exercises. Rev. E. F. Garrette will preside and deliver an address. Music will be furnished by the choir of the First Presbyterian Church, under the able leadership of C. C. Miller, Esq. Further notice of the programme for the evening will appear in the papers of next week. All are invited.

Broke his Leg.—On Thursday evening, Bernard Burns, a conductor on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, met with an accident by which his right leg was fractured. He was crossing Penn street near the forks of the road, and was struck and knocked down by a car of the Citizens Passenger Railway, two wheels passing over his leg and inflicting the injuries noted. He was taken to his home and a physician summoned to reduce the fracture.

In Memoriam.—It is with exceeding regret that we announce the death of Mr. James F. McKenna, which took place yesterday morning, at his residence, of consumption. Mr. McKenna was for many years a clerk in the Pittsburgh Postoffice and more recently engaged in the oil trade. He was a most kind-hearted gentleman and Christian, and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his loss. His family have our warmest sympathy in their affliction.

Sleighing Accident.—On Thursday evening Mr. John Heibling started out to take a sleigh ride on the Perrysville Plank Road. When some distance out the horse ran off, upsetting and breaking the sleigh, and throwing Mr. Heibling out and so seriously bruising him that he has been confined to the house ever since. This is the second time this same horse has run away within the last three weeks and on both occasions Mr. H. luckily escaped without broken bones.

The Rink.—This favorite place of amusement and exercise, situated on Robinson street, Allegheny, is now in capital condition, and is daily and nightly visited by hundreds of our young folks for the purpose of enjoying an hour on skates. The ice is as smooth as glass and the skaters are protected from the chilling winds that blow so raw on the rivers. No more healthy and invigorating exercise can be engaged in by our children or those of larger growth. Go to the Rink and be "a boy again."

Run Over.—A lad named Eddie Friel, who lives on Irwin street, attempting to cross Sixth avenue in front of a milk-wagon, driven by F. Binsley, was struck by the horse and knocked down, the wagon passing over his right leg below the knee. Dr. Gallaher, who was passing in a sleigh at the time, examined the fracture and pronounced it harmless. It was very providential and we almost wonder how the leg escaped being broken. The drivers cannot be too careful whilst passing along a crowded thoroughfare, but in most instances of this kind the pedestrian is and not the driver to blame.

Like Whiskey, the Real Estate Register improves with age. The issue before us for this week, is highly instructive on matters pertaining to real estate and landed interests. We predicted, upon learning of this enterprise, of its being a good, original and readable paper, and we are pleased to note the correctness of our prediction. The publishers, Messrs. Croft & Phillips, are worthy of the support of all persons interested in real estate matters, and considering the low price of the paper, one dollar per year, coupled with the information given, should place it in the hands of all persons interested in the subject of real estate. Specimen copies sent free.

Shoving the "Queer."

Yesterday morning United States Commissioner McCandless had Thomas Kirkpatrick before him, charged with attempting to pass counterfeit money. Kirkpatrick is a resident of Lawrenceville and the information against him was made by a shoemaker named [illegible]—a neighbor who says he passed upon him a counterfeit ten dollar bill on the National bank of Poughkeepsie, New York.

The defendant denies the charge and says he gave the shoemaker a five dollar bill. He gave bail for trial.

Watering Stock.

Quite a spirited contest took place on Thursday afternoon, with the stockholders of the St. Clair Street Suspension Bridge. The point at issue was, was the stock to be increased? At the close of the voting the shares voted stood as follows:

For	432
Against	4,397

The majority against the movement being so large, it is safe to predict there will be no money made by watering this stock. The dividend on this stock pays fourteen per cent. per annum. Par value $25 a share; selling at $60 per share.

THE OIL TRADE.

Petroleum Association Annual Meeting—Officers for 1871 Chosen—The Contract Question—Miscellaneous Matters.

Yesterday morning the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association was held at their rooms, No. 4 Dalzell's Building, Duquesne Way.

President James A. Hutchinson called the meeting promptly to order at ten o'clock, when the Secretary, Mr. A. F. Brooks, read the minutes of the preceding meeting. They were approved.

The Association proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted in the re-election of the present incumbents, as follows:

President—James A. Hutchinson.
Secretary and Treasurer—A. F. Brooks.

President Hutchinson, in a few remarks, thanked the Association for the compliment of a re-election.

The Treasurer then presented his annual report, showing the receipts to have been $[illegible] and the expenditures $270.47—leaving the Association five dollars in arrears.

The report was accepted and filed.

An

INTERESTING FINANCIAL DISCUSSION

now ensued.

The Chairman asked if all the members had "come down" with their dues.

To this the Secretary replied negatively, saying that a large number of petroleum dealers had refused to pay the assessments, and as it was very often desirable to have a full expression of the oil men on subjects of more than usual interest, an invitation was extended to them to attend the meetings and participate in the proceedings of the Association.

The President said he couldn't see that the thing could be changed from what it is now, that is, take the money of those who are willing to pay and let those who do not pay do as they please.

The situation was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Fawcett, Mr. Matthew Edwards was re-elected crude oil inspector for 1871.

Mr. Waring moved that a committee of five be appointed to revise and draw up a new form of contract for the sale of crude oil, said committee to consists of two refiners, two crude oil dealers, and the President of the Board.

The following form of contract was suggested:

FORM OF CONTRACT FOR CRUDE SALES.

"We have this day sold to ——— barrels of good green merchantable crude petroleum, of forty gallons to the barrel, at — cents per gallon; gravity to average from 40 to 46 degrees, subject to conditions on the back of this contract; to be delivered on bulk boats or tank cars, as sellers may elect, at any oil works on the line of either the Allegheny Valley Railroad or Western Pennsylvania Railroad that buyers may direct, at — option. Terms of payment to be cash on delivery, as gauged and delivered in lots.

Oil of from 40 to 48 degrees gravity, both degrees inclusive, may be delivered on this contract, subject to the following conditions: A discount of seven-eights per cent. shall be made for each quarter of a degree delivered above 46 and not over 48, and a premium of one-half per cent. for each quarter degree delivered under 46 and not less than 43.

All discounts and a premium shall be made on the face of the bill as delivered in lots. Inspection shall be paid by the buyer on all oil of 46 degrees gravity or under, and the seller shall pay the inspection on oil over 46 degrees gravity.

The seller shall have the right and privilege to deliver the oil on the buyer's contract during the last ten days preceding the expiration of the contract.

Mr. Edwards made a motion to the effect that three arbitrators be selected to decide the market price of crude oil on the last day of delivery.

An amendment was offered to this, appointing a Committee of two—one refiner and one crude dealer—and they to select the third party.

The chairman suggested that a penalty of one hundred dollars be inflicted for the non-delivery of contract, and that the Oil City market be taken as the market price.

After some further discussion, the matter was postponed until a future meeting to be called by the President.

The matter of Gauger's fees was next considered informally. The statement was made that now city and county get about $20,000 from the gauging, which made the fees foot up pretty high—too excessive.

No definite action was taken, and the Association then adjourned.

THAT BRIGADIER GENERALSHIP.

Capt. Moore Unsuccessful—An Injunction Refused—New Protests—The Election—A Piece of Strategy.

Yesterday morning, in the District Court, Judge Hampton delivered the opinion of the Court on the application made by Captain James B. Moore, for an injunction restraining General Pearson from holding the election for Brigadier General. The Court refused to grant the injunction, holding that the complainant would not sustain any irreparable injury if the election was held. His Honor suggested that if the complainant and other commanders of battalion companies were illegally disfranchised, they could obtain a remedy by contesting the election. The bill was accordingly dismissed.

PROTESTS PRESENTED.

The following protests were afterwards handed to General Pearson:

To Major Gen. A. L. Pearson:

We protest against the right to vote by representation at the election for Brigadier-General of the First brigade Eighteenth division N. G. P., of the following companies, to wit: First and Second companies Heath Zouaves, Pearson Zouaves and Baldwin Zouaves, because neither of said companies have been legally attached to the said First brigade, and are not within the territorial jurisdiction of the brigade composed of the city of Pittsburgh.

David Campbell,
Commanding First Battalion.
D. B. Morris,
Commanding Third Battalion.
Wm. B. Neeper,
Captain First Company D. G.
Jas. B. Moore,
Captain Second Company D. G.
Sam'l L. Fullwood,
Captain Third Company D. G.
W. F. Anderson,
Captain Fourth Co., Third Battalion.
J. H. Foster,
First Lieut. Com'g Sixth Co., Third Battalion.

Protesting against the right of Major-General Pearson to hold the election for Brigadier-General of the First Brigade, Eighteenth Division N. G. P., and also against the right to form the brigade, as he has done, we tender our votes.

Wm. B. Neeper, Captain First Company Duquesne Greys.
James B. Moore, Captain Second Company Duquesne Greys.
Samuel L. Fullwood, Captain Third Company Duquesne Greys.
W. F. Anderson, Captain Fourth Company Duquesne Greys.
J. H. Foster. First-Lieutenant commanding Sixth Company, Third Battalion.

No action was taken on the protests and the votes were not received.

THE ELECTION.

The election was accordingly held at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the office of General Pearson. The candidates were Gen. T. A. Rowley, Adjutant John Lanahan, Capts. D. B. Morris and W. B. Neeper. Before the vote was taken Capt. Neeper withdrew. The result of the ballot was as follows:

Rowley	5
Lanahan	3
Morris	0

Gen. Rowley was then sworn into office by Major General Pearson and the election business was over.

THE MAJOR GENERAL'S STRATEGY.

A new phase of the case was developed yesterday morning, when it appeared that a bill had been put through both Houses of the Legislature and signed by the Governor, Thursday. This bill amends the act relating to District Attorneys, and allows them to hold office in the Militia. Thus General Pearson is "fixed," and as the bill is now a law, all doubts as to his eligibility on the score of being a District Attorney are disposed of.

The muddle is becoming interesting and has engaged the attention of people outside military circles. What will come next?

LINCOLN CAUGHT.

He is Overhauled in Lincoln—To be brought Back.

The Lincoln case is still fresh in the minds of our readers. It will be remembered that Mr. Lincoln, who was a partner of the firm of Lincoln & Cherry, jewelers, Wylie street, disappeared one fine morning, and carried with him a goodly portion of the stock—$5,000 worth. Detectives at once were put on the track, although little hope was entertained that he would be caught. The detectives however, have been successful it would seem. Yesterday a dispatch was received in the city stating that Lincoln had been overhauled in Lincoln, Nebraska. He seems to have acted very indifferently when once out of Pittsburgh. He was known in Lincoln by jewelers, who, seeing him there, attempting to dispose of his jewelry, we understand at small prices, suspected something wrong. They telegraphed to Pittsburgh, and the result was Mr. Lincoln was caught up.

He will be brought back here. It is not known how much of the goods he has yet in his possession, but his partner thinks he could not have disposed of it so soon. A day or two will add another chapter to this strange case.

THE RINGWAL DEFALCATION.

Criminal Proceedings Instituted—The Delinquent non est.

Yesterday Jas. M. Cooper, chairman of the committee appointed by the Board of Managers of the House of Refuge, to prosecute Mr. H. L. Ringwalt for the embezzlement of funds belonging to that institution, with his attorney, Major A. M. Brown, appeared before Alderman Strain and made affidavit setting forth the charges we have already reported. The Alderman's officers, together with several detective spent the entire day trying to find out the whereabouts of the late defaulter, but had not succeeded at 10 o'clock last evening. Mr. R. was last seen on Thursday evening, and it is now supposed he has left the city.

Lake Fish.

Our readers do not generally know the extent of the fish trade, and to those not acquainted with this branch of business it will no doubt be a surprise when we inform them that one firm alone in our city handles tens of thousands of barrels and half barrels of fish yearly, caught and packed at the lakes lying north of our State.

James Connor, No. 355 Liberty street, is perhaps the largest dealer in our city, and some idea of the immense business done by him, in the fish trade alone, can be obtained from the knowledge of the fact that he requires a half dozen cellars to contain his stock, laid in through the winter months, to supply the demand through the spring and summer. Besides his trade in lake fish, he does an extensive business in general groceries. He has been doing business a long time in our city, and commands the respect and confidence of the entire community. Give him a call.

False Pretences.

H. M. Kirkpatrick, of the firm of Shamor & Co., boarding house keepers in the Diamond, appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday and made an information charging W. H. Palmer with false pretences in having obtained board by representing that he was an agent for the sale of agricultural implements, in particular for the sale of a certain mowing machine, which he represented that he was negotiating for to certain parties on Water street. On inquiry being made, however, it was found that the representations were false in every particular. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

REMEMBER THE POOR.

A Sad Story.

While sitting at our cheerful fire last evening, with our children, listening to the storm and wind outside, we congratulated ourselves that a kind Providence had cast our lot in pleasant places and enabled us to enjoy the comforts of our home, sheltered from the cold blasts of winter. The door-bell rang with a gentle pull, and upon answering its summons we found on the door-step a little, thinly-clad girl, who in a plaintive voice, as tears stood in her childish eyes, asked us to "please buy some peas" from her, as she was nearly frozen and had not been able to sell the quantity given her to dispose of. We took her in and found that she was nearly shoeless and almost perished with cold. After she became warmed, and stimulated with a cup of coffee, we learned from her that she was fatherless and that her mother was confined to bed with consumption, having been an invalid for many weeks and depended solely upon the earnings of her child, through her scanty sales of dried peas. We found further, that they lived in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, within a stone's throw of Federal street, on the line of the P. F. W. & C. Railway.

As we gazed upon the sad features of this little child, sent forth amid the snow and sleet, to earn for herself and her sick mother, a scanty subsistence, and thought of the fact that thousands of our wealthiest citizens walk almost past the door of her sad home daily, we wondered whether our duty as citizens was wholly done to this class of our people, and whether, in a Christian land, such poverty and suffering were beyond relief. We have erected institutions for the poor and lowly, have lavished fortunes untold, upon them, and after all this, must we still witness such scenes as above described? Is it possible for our charity and relief societies to do more than they are doing, and we know they do much every day? Can these real sufferers not be found in their dreary homes, and have their wants supplied? We hope this notice will meet the eye of our philanthropics and wealthy citizens, and that some steps will be taken to so district our cities, that the little wanderers may be provided for in warm homes.

A Good Joke.

A lady friend of ours, living not a thousand miles from Stockton avenue, Allegheny, met with a singular loss some days ago, and in a queer way, the relation of which will not prove uninteresting to our readers. Our friend rejoices in the ownership of an elegant and costly pair of spectacles, which she prizes very highly. Some time ago she had occasion to use the "specks," and went to her bureau, where she usually laid them when not in use, but found to her mortification that they were gone, and further search proved that they were no where to be found. High and low she hunted for the missing glasses, and at last gave them up for lost, supposing that some despicable house thief had made way with them. A week or two elapsed and nothing had occurred to throw any light on the subject, when, one day whilst she was rummaging, as all good housekeepers do, through her cupboard, she observed, to her astonishment, a rat or mouse hole leading into the wall. Upon closer examination she discovered something glittering in the hole, and upon inserting her fingers, lo, and behold! she drew forth, to her amazement, her missing spectacles. The rats (doubtless old ones), thinking it a good chance to provide against the loss of eyesight that they felt coming on, as they grew older, had purloined our friend's "specs," and had been using them as a fitting and elegant ornament to their household. Query: Were those rats intellectually inclined, or were they dazzled with the beauty of the gold and the glitter of the glass? We leave our readers to solve this mystery, content with giving the unvarnished facts.

A Word of Advice.

What's the use of carrying a dumb watch—dumb because it needs a little repairing—when Duneseth, No. 56 Fifth avenue, in a few hours and next to nothing in money, will put the time-keeper in proper order and make it reliable—a thing of utility and a satisfaction to have. Take your watches, then, to Duneseth, or if you have a clock that won't run, run with it to Duneseth, and get him to make it run.

Duneseth, No. 56 Fifth avenue, also has on hand a full line of jewelry, watches, rings, opera glasses and fancy articles, which he will dispose of at the most reasonable rates.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Allegheny Teachers in Council Last Night—Discussion on Corporal Punishment.

Last evening the regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny Teachers' Institute was held in the hall of the Fifth Ward Public School building. There was an unusually large attendance, the audience comprising not only teachers, but many directors and friends of education from both cities.

The exercises were opened at seven o'clock, Prof. E. M. Still, of the Second ward, presiding, and Miss J. Lecky acting as Secretary.

After the usual introductory exercises, Prof. Curry, of the Normal School, delivered a short but interesting and practical lecture on Geography, illustrating how it should be taught, and the best method of getting the scholars interested in its study.

Following the lecture was a discussion upon "Corporal punishment" under a resolution which referred to the late action of the Board of control in abolishing it in the schools as an indication of the advancing spirit of the age.

The discussion continued an hour and was at times quite spicy.

By request, City Superintendent Luckey, of Pittsburgh, opened the debate with his views. He strongly endorsed the action of the Board, and expressed himself as satisfied that in the increased efficiency of the schools, better order, and more attention to study, its wisdom would hereafter be made apparent.

He was followed by Profs. Burtt, Caldwell Messrs. J. W. Sloan, W. M. Claney, W. R. Ford Profs. Harrison and Morrow—the two latter gentlemen favoring corporal punishment.

The main arguments adduced by the defenders of the system were that teachers were required to do what even the best of parents failed to do—govern without the rod. Corporal punishment at times was necessary, and its abolition could not but make the task of the teacher much more difficult, and one which it would be impossible rightly to perform. If the parent had to use the rod—filial affection or fear being insufficient—the teacher should not be prohibited from using the same means. Expulsion would not do, as then the parents generally interceded, and the pupil was brought back much more hardened than before. Corporal punishment should still be kept up in the schools, not to be used on the smallest provocation, but as a last resort in the hands of the teacher.

The opponents of the method of control, argued on the other hand that whipping a child in school to discipline it, was a relic of barbarism. That a new era had come; that moral sussion had proved itself more effacacious than brute force, and that the experiments made, in those schools where it had been tried had proved the feasibility of the system.

The speeches were limited to ten minutes, and were listened to with great attention.

They were interspersed with vocal music, which considerably enlivened the proceedings and added much to the interest of the occasion.

The Institute adjourned about half past nine o'clock.

THE ARSENAL QUESTION.

Gen. Negley's Course Endorsed by the Councilmen of the Lawrenceville Section of the City.

The following endorsement was prepared and mailed to Gen. J. S. Negley, yesterday. It is signed by all the Councilmen of the Wards in which the Arsenal is located, with the exception of Mr. Albeitz, who is out of the city, and Mr. McKim, one of the Committee to visit Washington on the subject;

The undersigned members of the Select and Common Councils of Pittsburgh, representing the people of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards of said city, who are more particularly interested in the removal of the United States Arsenal from their neighborhood, desire to express to you their sense of gratitude for the introduction of the bill now pending, and which we learn has already passed the House.

Our people are almost unanimously in favor of the passage of this act by the Senate, and hope that you will use your official influence to promote it. We regret exceedingly the calumny, abuse and misrepresentation that your attention to our interests has subjected you to by an unscrupulous press. Indeed, it is apparent that the opposition to the bill for the removal of the Arsenal is animated more by personal malice and political hostility than by sincere devotion to the true interests of our city.

With high regards, we remain your obedient servants,

S. Wainwright, 15th Ward.
S. Deitrich, 15th Ward.
Jas. S. Devlin, 16th Ward.
Ben F. Schmidt, 16th Ward.
R. Watson, 16th Ward.
A. Scott, 17th Ward.
C. Miller, 17th Ward.
John Chislett, 17th Ward.
Z. Wainwright, 17th Ward.
W. C. Brown, 17th Ward.

ANOTHER CUTTING AFFRAY.

A Coal Miner Seriously Stabbed at McKeesport—Whisky the Cause—The Perpetrator Still at Large.

In our issue of Wednesday we gave an account of a stabbing affray, the parties to which were coal miners, on Saw Mill Run, by which a man named Melaney was so seriously cut as to render the probability of recovery very doubtful, and to which whisky was the inciting cause.

To-day we are called upon to record another affair of the same nature which took place at McKeesport on Wednesday and may result in the death of a man whose name we were unable to learn.

The parties engaged in the affair are both coal miners and Englishmen, the name of the assailant being McCallister. The two men, it appears met in a tavern in the borough kept by a man named Faulkner, when a dispute arose between them, which eventually came to blows. The parties then went out, or were ejected from the tavern and renewed the fight on the street. During the melee McCallister, it is said, pulled out a knife and commenced cutting at his antagonist in the most savage manner, producing several wounds. The wounded man was removed to a house, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Kuhn. They are of a serious but not necessarily fatal character. Up to last night McCallister had not been arrested.

To the Trade.

I desire to call the attention of the trade to my stock of Lake Fish, having, for the past thirteen years, made this branch of business a speciality.

My stock, at this time, is the largest ever held in this city. I am prepared to furnish dealers, promptly, by the dray or car load, and have made arrangements for shipping by the car load, at special rates, from Detroit, Sandusky, Huron, Vermillion or Cleveland, and also from Pittsburgh to any points in Pennsylvania or Ohio, as shippers may wish.

I would also call the attention of dealers to my extensive assortment and stock of Corn Brooms, Broom Corn and Broom Materials, all of which I can supply at very low rates.

James Connor,
Wholesale Grocer,
SMW No 355 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

Editors Gazette: Your issue of yesterday contained a communication from some one signed "Many Sufferers," who certainly did not know what he was writing about, when he presumes to designate people as "inhuman," because they obey an ordinance and the Mayor's proclamation by "clearing their pavements of snow within twenty-four hours of its fall." He should know that we are a law-abiding people. As for the Mayor ordering his police to compel a violation of the law, quite a number believe his duties don't lie in that direction. "Many Sufferers" should have a meeting of Councils called to repeal the obnoxious ordinance, so that pavement owners can use their own judgment in the matter, or compel the clerk of the weather to inform them when sudden changes are about to occur. If his object was merely to offer a suggestion, he might have done so without using the expression "inhuman," and invoking the aid of the Mayor and police.

One Who Cleaned the Pavement.

THE BROWNING ASSOCIATION.

Literary Entertainment Last Evening—An Enjoyable Evening.

The Browning Association connected with the Pittsburgh Female College gave one of their entertainments at the college last evening. The cozy little chapel was filled with a conspicuously brilliant audience, such as these occasions never fail to call together, and from the enthusiasm evinced in applauding the performers, it might be correctly judged that in anticipating a treat the attendants were not disappointed.

The fair performers made their appearance upon the platform about eight o'clock, when the audience was attracted by an opening instrumental duett, by the Misses J. Weigel and A. Helfrick.

Rev. S. M. Hickman followed with prayer. The programme was then taken up and announced in the following order by President Pershing who acted as chairman.

Song—"I'm a Merry Zingara," Miss Jessie Weigel.
Essay—"Clouds," Miss Lydia Green.
Instrumental Music—Miss Inez Kennedy.
Essay—"Furniture," Miss Laura Sawhill.
Song—"The Shepherd's Song," Miss Emma Sawyer.
Select Reading—"Drafted," Miss Louise Pershing.
Instrumental Duet—Mrs. Blessner and Miss S. Cunningham.
Essay—"Self Made," Miss Lide Nicholson.
Essay—"Beneath the Surface," Miss Alice Birdsong.
Instrumental Music—Miss Jessie Weigel.
Song—"I'll Roam the Dewy Bowers," Miss Emma Sawyer.
Select Reading—"Birthday Gifts," Miss Mollie Pershing.
Song—"Liberty for Me," Miss Jessie Weigel.

About two hours were very pleasantly occupied in completing the programme. The performances all showed a marked degree of care and talent some of them—we will not name, not wishing to make individual distinctions—being very heartily and deservedly applauded.

The entertainment concluded about ten o'clock, and the audience separated. It was certainly one of the most successful which has yet marked the record of the "Browning." The second half of the winter term of the College will commenced on Monday, at which time new pupils will be received.

Longest Trial in the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County.

Two cases of B. C. Sawyer vs. Edward Maginnis and Alexander Miller vs. Edward Maginnis, ejectments tried together for land and river front near Cork's Run, worth upwards of $40,000, have just been closed by a verdict for the plaintiffs, after a trial of twenty-two days. The jury was sworn before his Honor, Judge Stowe, on Thursday, the fifth day of January, and the verdict was rendered on the twenty-sixth day of January. The counsel for plaintiffs were Robert Woods and N. P. Fetterman, Esqs., and for the defendant M. W. Acheson and J. R. Large, Esqs., amongst the ablest attorneys at the Allegheny County Bar.

This is the fourth trial in the court below, after having been twice in the Supreme Court, in which on the first instance the decision of the court below was affirmed, and in the second reversed. The litigation commenced in February, 1862.

This is we believe the longest case ever tried in the Court of Common Pleas of this county, and it is to be hoped, that this contest has finally reached its end.

Good Templars' Convention.

The eighth quarterly session of the Monongahela Valley District Convention of Good Templars meets on Tuesday afternoon, 31st inst., in Odd Fellows' Hall, corner Butler and Thirty-sixth streets, (Lawrenceville.) Hon. S. B. Chase, the head of the order in this State, will preside. Mrs. Harriet N. Goff, of Philadelphia, lectures on "Intemperance as it Affects Woman." Major H. D. McGaw, of this city, has specially prepared a paper on "A Temperance Political Party." This Convention will be the largest ever held by the Order in this part of the State, as its delegation will not only be full, but many visitors are expected from the adjoining districts. There is quite a stir amongst the members of the Order in this city in arranging for the entertainment of the guests, and in preparation of attractions, both musical and literary, for the sessions.

Preaching To-morrow.

The Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., who now fills the chair of Didactic and Systematic Theology in the U. P. Seminary, Allegheny, in the room of the late Rev. John T. Pressly, D. D., will preach in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church (Dr. Douglas pastor) to-morrow (Sabbath) morning, at half-past ten o'clock. Dr. Cooper, who is now filling the chair of Theology in the U. P. Seminary with entire satisfaction to all concerned, has been long known as one of the most able, eloquent and leading ministers in the United Presbyterian General Assembly, and he will, without doubt, have a large congregation present to hear him to-morrow morning. We have not heard what his subject will be, but we can assure all that it will be an interesting one.

Forestalling the Market.

Officer Messner, Market Constable, yesterday arrested Conrad Schaad, a butcher, for forestalling the market. A hearing was had before Alderman Humbert and the accused pleading ignorance of the law was discharged.

The same officer also arrested Nicholas Green for buying eleven pairs of chickens during market hours with the purpose of reselling the same. He too pleaded ignorance and was discharged on payment of costs.

Officer Messner, before the same Alderman, preferred a charge of disorderly conduct against Mrs. McTighe, who refused to give up a stand in the market allotted to farmers. Hearing had and case dismissed at cost of the accused.

They have now an elegant assortment of ready made goods, and will take the order of any patron, guaranteeing to fit him and give satisfaction.

Important.—We would remind our readers that Dr. W. A. McCandless, of Philadelphia, who cures Piles, Blind Bleeding, Itching, internal or external, will visit Pittsburgh for three days, and be at Union Depot Hotel on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Those suffering with the above complaints would do well to call, as charges are moderate and consultation and examination in all cases free of charge.

Auction Sales.—The sale at outcry goes on as usual at No. 26 Fifth avenue. Our readers have been reminded again and again that by attending this sale they could not fail to find goods needed in their families of excellent quality, and so cheap that when an article is knocked down to them they would be almost ashamed to take it at the price; but they have in no instance accepted more than the amount bid.

Gents will find a nice assortment of gloves, handkerchiefs and neckties at Moorhead's No. 81 Market street. All styles, all prices, and everything in the latest fashion. No house in the city has a better assortment. Gents should drop in there and supply themselves with a scarf or necktie, or such articles in that line as they may need.

A Chance to make money with a small capital.—I will sell my grocery and provision store, doing a fair business, situated in a thriving part of Allegheny city and on the line of the Pleasant Valley Railway. Has very little competition. Cheap for cash. Inquire No. 111 Mostery street.

A Sound Mind in a sound body is the great desideratum with all right thinking men, and is best attained through the steady use of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale.

The Weed Sewing is rapidly distancing its oldest competitors, and by its real excellence gaining friends every day. Messrs. John Biggert & Son, 116 Market street will gladly exhibit the Weed to all in search of a sewing machine, and convince the most sceptical that it is beyond doubt the best in use. t:th:s.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

Two Men Have Their Ribs Broken and a Third His Arm Crushed.

Yesterday a brakesman named Harrison Norris, while engaged in coupling coal cars at Armstrong's yard, near the Outer Depot, Allegheny, had his right arm crushed. He had been at work but a few days, and had not yet learned that in coupling cars on a curve he ought to have taken the outside of it, and instead took the inside, and was hurt as above. He was taken to his home on Juniata street, where his injuries were attended to.

ANOTHER.

Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, a brakesman named Denis Murphy, in the employ of the same company, had three ribs fractured. He was in the act of coupling cars, and while attempting to get out of the way he slipped on the ice. He was caught between the bumpers and severely crushed. He was attended by Dr. Buchanan, and was removed to his home at No. 127 Penn street, in this city.

STILL ANOTHER.

A laborer named John Russell, in the employ of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, was thrown from a car at the corner of Pike and Eleventh streets yesterday. He had remained on the car while the train was being shifted, and the sudden jarring of the cars caused him to lose his balance and fall to the ground. He struck heavily on his side, thereby fracturing three of his ribs, besides sustaining severe internal injuries. He was speedily taken up and conveyed to his boarding house, at the corner of Penn and Fourteenth streets. Dr. Butterfield was summoned, and did what could be done. It is feared that the injured man will not recover.

On Wednesday afternoon a laborer named John Castle, employed at the transfer depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, met with an accident of a serious nature. He had been directed to check a car that was being shifted to a side track, and missing his hold on the brake, he fell to the ground. He was picked up immediately and taken to his home, near the Fifth Ward school house, and a physician summoned, who, on examination, found that no bones were broken, but that he received bruises which will confine him to the house for some time.

A Card from Prof. Cowley.

Mr. Editor: Judging from some anonymous articles that have appeared in the newspapers of late, I conclude that some second or third rate penman is endeavoring to impress the public with the idea that I have severed my connections with the Iron City College, and therefore he is to have the field to himself hereafter. For the benefit of this ambitious individual, I beg leave to state that I still occupy, and shall continue to occupy, the position of Professor of Penmanship in the Iron City College, the same as I have done for the past fifteen years. I would further add that the public are cordially invited to call and examine our method of instruction and compare its practical results with those of other schools and other methods of teaching.

A. Cowley.

New Masonic Lodge.

The charter for Pittsburgh Lodge, No. 484, A. Y. M., having been received, the Lodge will be formally instituted on Monday next at high noon, by District Deputy C. M. Pollock. The officers elected will also be installed at the same time. Following are the names of the officers: D. P. Estep, W. M; D. W. C. Carroll, S. W.; James Bown, J. W.; William Little Treasurer; Robert W. Wright, Secretary.

Real Estate and Stocks.—A. Leggate's Real Estate and Stock Exchange 159 Federal street, Allegheny, will present unusual attractions on Monday evening next. There will be public sales made of the fine property No. 64 Lincoln avenue, 89 Beaver street, and 207 Sandusky street, all of which are very desirable residences. Intending purchasers should by all means give these sales special attention. Allegheny Trust Company and Ewalt street bridge stocks and bonds are also included in the sale. See advertisement by A. Leggate, auctioneer.

Money to Loan.—Bonds Stock and Mortgages bought and sold by George B. Hill, corner of Wood street and Third-avenue. tf

The Bituminous Coal Trade of 1870.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune writes: The total production of bituminous coal in this country, in 1870, amounted to fully 18,000,000 tuns. The bituminous trade bids fair to eclipse the anthracite in a few years. The latter amounted last year, as far as reported in Pennsylvania, to only 16,889,505 tuns. In Boston, in 1870, the anthracite trade fell off 36,400 tuns, while the bituminous increased 49,600 tuns. During the past year the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with the Ohio and Chesapeake Canal, brought to market 1,717,075 tuns of Cumberland coal, a decrease of 165,000 tuns. The Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad tranported 313,822 tuns, a decrease of 46,850 tuns The Tyrone and Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania Central carried 345,000 tuns of the Phœnix Vein, while the Allegheny Mountain mines shipped 90,090 tuns, mostly for local consumption. The Blossburg and the Towanda mines, which largely supply New York State and the lake region, supplied, as near as can be ascertained, 500,000 tuns. Thus, the total consumption of bituminous coal for iron, steam and domestic uses, on the seaboard north of Cape Henry, aggregated 3,000,000 tuns. In addition, the gas coals of Western Pennsylvania and Virginia gave 1,500,000 tuns, of which one-half was brought eastward by the Pennsylvania Central. The statistics of the western bituminous trade are only approximate. It is an authenticated fact that Pittsburgh, besides consuming locally 600,000 tuns, shipped 2,000,000 tuns down the Ohio at $2 each; yet so inadequate was the supply that it commanded $8 a tun at Memphis. Cleveland received, for its own consumption and for transportation on the lakes, nearly 1,000,000 tuns, by the Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroads. The great West and Northwest, taking the statistics of the "Panhandle" and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroads, consumed an additional 2,000,000 tuns. As near as can be ascertained, the Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Kentucky mines yielded nearly 4,000,000 tuns; and to these are to be added the productions of the vicinity of Richmond, Va., of Alabama and Tennessee. In view of this great and increasing production, the strikes of the anthracite miners will yearly become of less practical value. A silent revolution is at work in the coal trade. Baltimore seems to be losing the supremacy on the seaboard once held by the Cumberland coal, owing to the valuable tracts opened up in Clearfield county, Pa., during the last three years; but by the completion of the Cumberland Valley Railroad to the Potomac River, Baltimore retaliates by a sharp competition in the iron manufacturing regions of Central Pennsylvania. And while Philadelphia enjoys the benefits which Baltimore had by her Cumberland, this city, in turn, will lose command of the gas coal trade by the completion of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, opening up to Baltimore and the seaboard the rich gas coals of the Youghiogheny Valley. The present year promises to make some other important changes in the coal trade.
